LINK-US Construction Funding – Support

Dear Chair Sandoval and Committee members:

From Chatsworth to Pomona, and from Lancaster to Norwalk, Los Angeles County communities will benefit from a radical improvement in regional rail service once the Link-US project is complete. For the first time Metrolink will be able to offer a competitive service linking dozens of communities with each other, not just with downtown Los Angeles.

If you stand alongside the 101 freeway in downtown Los Angeles and observe the traffic, you will note that most vehicles pass through, rather than entering or exiting at the downtown ramps. By changing Union Station from a railroad cul-de-sac to a through station it will be possible to offer a service that competes with the freeway and will attract many of these single occupancy car trips onto trains.

This project also improves air quality downtown by eliminating idling locomotives, and saves Metrolink and Amtrak hours of crew time that can be effectively used adding more service.

Regional and intercity passenger rail are below the standard that the people of Los Angeles County need and deserve. Link-US represents a major step forward in providing the County and Southern California with a mobility option that will be faster and more convenient and will be competitive with the private automobile. Please support this funding package and move the project forward.

Sincerely, SIGNED

Paul Dyson, President Emeritus (Burbank)

Brian Yanity, Vice President, South.

RE: Metro Budget Hearing – FY23

Dear Metro Board of Directors and CEO Wiggins,

As you consider Metro's projected $8.8 billion-dollar budget for Fiscal Year 2023, Metro's largest budget in its history, please consider these points that are critical but often not discussed.

1. Investments in bus operations have remained relatively flat over the past three decades. And census data shows that Los Angeles County's population grew during that time by 1 million people—all looking for improved access, reliability and safety in getting where they want and need to go.
2. Those who rely on bus service in Los Angeles (largely people with lower incomes and with Black, Latino, Asian and Pacific Islander ethnicity) have been getting less and less over the years:
 - A. Fewer service hours – now at the lowest point since the mid-90s
 - B. Slower speeds – average 12 mph on weekdays (too few bus-only lanes)
 - C. Unpredictable schedules – service cut and restored numerous times

3. These challenges are heightened by the current shortage of transit operators, which will continue as long as wages and conditions remain poor.

4. Considering the above 3 points, we ask Metro to:

- A. Increase funding for bus operations, including a boost to operator pay
- B. Fulfill NextGen promises of investments addressing speed and reliability, and share the plan and project list with the public
- C. Fully fund a NextGen community partnership program to build support and localized leadership for bus only lanes and other quick build NextGen speed and reliability investments.

Data and detail supporting these points are included on the following pages.

Budget for Bus Operations Has Remained Relatively Flat

As we review the draft FY23 budget along with previous years of investments, we are struck by the fact that Metro's investments in bus operations have changed very little over the past 28 years. (See our spreadsheets for more detail.)

Figure 1 highlights the past decade in particular, featuring actual (not projected) data reported by LA Metro to the National Transit Database (NTD).

INVESTING in PLACE

- Vehicle Operations includes wages, salaries and expenses related to all activities associated with dispatching and running vehicles to carry passengers.
- Vehicle maintenance includes wages, salaries and expenses incurred during all activities related to keeping vehicles operational and in good repair.
- Facility maintenance includes all activities related to keeping buildings, structures, roadways, track, and other non-vehicle assets operational and in good repair.
- General administration includes wages, salaries, and expenses incurred to perform support and administrative activities.

Data source: National Transit Database.

As you can see, bus operating costs have not increased much over the past 10 years. The exception is an increase between FY15 and FY17, partly due to a sizable increase in wages, salaries and expenses for people working in the general administration of bus services.

Bus Service is At Lowest Point Since the '90s

We have collected data on Metro's revenue service hours for buses for the past 28 years. We encourage you to review our spreadsheets as well as Figure 2 below.

INVESTING in PLACE

Figure 2: Metro Bus Revenue Service Hours (RSH) from FY94 - FY20 (actuals). RSH is the hours that vehicles/passenger cars travel while in revenue service.

Vehicle revenue hours (VRH) include:

- Revenue service
- Layover/recovery time

Actual vehicle revenue hours exclude:

- Deadhead (vehicle in operation in between trips without passengers on board)
- Operator training
- Maintenance testing
- School bus and charter services

RSH is in actuals. Data source: National Transit Database.

Figure 2 shows that bus revenue service hours have remained flat for much of LA Metro's existence, meaning that bus riders have experienced roughly the same amount of bus service since LA Metro was formed in 1993. When you factor in today's lower bus speeds, service is actually worse.

Further, the volume of service hours has become much more volatile due to COVID-19, with bus service cut and restored on numerous occasions. This complicates life and work for those who rely on our buses to get around.

Operator Shortage Impedes Service Improvements

As of March 2022, Metro is short 609 bus and rail operators (source: Metro Board Report April 2022, Agenda item 20). This shortage has slowed progress toward re-establishing service levels.

Service hours were down to 6.3 million in FY20 due to service cuts, and then were budgeted to be restored to 7.1 million in FY22. But service was cut again in February 2022 (back down to 6.3 million) due to a shortage of transit operators.

INVESTING in PLACE

Unless the job pay (starting wage $20.49 at part time hours) is significantly increased and job conditions are improved, it is hard to see a path forward to having enough bus operators to operate the FY23 budgeted pre-COVID transit service levels.

Progress Toward NextGen Remains a Mystery

It has been more than two years since the Metro Board adopted the Transit First Scenario alternative for implementation of the NextGen plan in January 2020. The Transit First alternative called for a significant reorganization of Metro's bus service and major investments in busy corridors where riders have suffered long waits and slow rides for decades.

For the last two years, Metro has reorganized bus routes while insisting that adding new bus service is less important than fixing speed and reliability of existing service.

However, it is impossible to track the plan and its progress because Metro and its partner agency, LADOT, have never released public plans for how to fund the NextGen expansion, and they've never put out a detailed project list. Without a more transparent budgeting and accounting process, the public isn't able to help understand and shape the public dollars and infrastructure desperately needed by so many.

NextGen Capital Investments Remain Under-Funded

According to the direction of the Metro Board, the NextGen Transit First Scenario was to include:

- Nearly $1 billion in capital spending over five years, including
- Hundreds of millions each year for bus priority lanes, all-door boarding, bus stop and layover improvements, transit signal priority, and more—to fulfill its stated priority of improving speed and reliability, plus
- Reallocation of bus service hours to create an all-day, frequent and reliable network.

Instead, Metro is on pace to barely hit $33 million budgeted in the first three years.

Funding for Capital Investments

$6.5 million	Year 1
$8 million	Year 2
$18.6 million	Year 3 (FY23)

That leaves a whopping $967 million remaining for the last two years.

Data sources are from Metro Budget & Finance Committees in 2020 and 2022, and from Metro Board Report January 2020.

While the budget for NextGen has doubled in FY23, capital investments continue to be under-funded to meet the Metro Board's direction to spend nearly $1 billion in five years.

INVESTING in PLACE

Progress Will Continue to be Slow Without More Public Outreach

In order to implement infrastructure improvements to improve bus speeds (which are now about 12 mph on a weekday), a key solution identified by the NextGen plan is to designate bus-only lanes.

Since 2018, the Metro and LADOT bus speed work group has implemented 12.8 bus-only lane miles, which is small but important progress on a very large problem. But to put that into perspective, consider the scale of the bus and street network in Los Angeles: The City of Los Angeles alone has 23,000 lane miles, and about 40 percent of those are major avenues and boulevards.

In order to accelerate and see success with bus-only lanes, Metro needs to reach out to people where they are: on buses.

Fully fund a community partnership program to create positions for staff to do outreach directly on Metro buses on the key bus routes as identified by the NextGen Plan.

Show the People of Los Angeles County Your Commitment to Them

One measure of a region's priorities is how we invest (or not) in our public spaces, and in the services that make it possible for people to access their destinations. People can't get ahead in life if they can't get around.

Transportation investments have the potential to strengthen communities.

Subject: Please stop widening freeways

Dear Finance Committee, Board Chair Solis, and CEO Stephanie Wiggins,

Please stop widening freeways. Metro's 2023 budget shows a planned 33% increase in Freeway spending, this comes after last year's 80% increase in freeway spending, and at the same time as transit expansion funding is being decreased in 2023.

No discretionary funding should go to freeway expansion. No freeway funding should be accelerated faster than scheduled in Measure M.

Vehicle trips are the main source of air pollution in Southern California and the largest source of CO2 emissions in the state. More than 1 million Angelenos live within 1,000ft of a freeway and breathe toxic air. Widening freeways displaces homes, businesses, and disproportionately impacting BIPOC communities while failing to mitigate congestion as promised due to induced demand.

It's vital Metro stop spending more on wasteful and harmful freeway projects as we face the critical threats of climate change, fossil fuel reliance, and traffic violence. I ask that you adjust the 2023 budget to reduce highway spending below 2021 levels and increase spending on improving transit and bike share.

Thank you,

Widening freeways displaces homes, businesses, and disproportionately impacting BIPOC communities while failing to mitigate congestion as promised due to induced demand. Both the initial construction and subsequent expansions of freeways disproportionately harmed and continue to harm marginalized communities by evicting residents and destroying their homes, increasing the air pollution that residents are forced to endure, causing worse long-term health outcomes, and leading to shorter lifespans.

Additionally, within the context of our concurrent housing and climate crises, demolishing homes to make room for more automobiles would be an incredibly regressive action. People are more important than cars, and the initiatives funded by the County should reflect that sentiment.

Dear Finance Committee, Board Chair Solis, and CEO Stephanie Wiggins,

Hello, my name is Lionel Mares, MPA. I am a resident of Los Angeles County and a community board member, and I am writing to express my thoughts and concerns about the widening of freeways and the impact that they will have on my community.

Please stop widening freeways. Metro's 2023 budget shows a planned 33% increase in Freeway spending, this comes after last year's 80% increase in freeway spending, and at the same time as transit, expansion funding is being decreased in 2023.

Subject: Please stop inducing more car demand by widening freeways

Dear Finance Committee, Board Chair Solis, and CEO Stephanie Wiggins,

Metro's 2023 budget shows a planned 33% increase in freeway spending.

We are in a climate crisis, and since over a third of emissions come from the transportation sector, it is imperative that no freeway funding should be accelerated faster than scheduled in Measure M.

In addition to greenhouse gas emissions, pollution from cars and trucks is causing a multitude of health issues among the million or so Angelenos who live within 1,000 feet of the freeways.

I ask that you adjust the 2023 budget to reduce highway spending below 2021 levels and increase spending on improving transit and bike infrastructure.

Thank you for your attention to this matter.

Subject: Freeway widening is not in Measure M - don't keep increasing freeway expansion budget

Dear Finance Committee, Board Chair Solis, and CEO Stephanie Wiggins,

Under your leadership, Chair Solis and CEO Wiggins, Metro is taking important worthwhile steps toward equity and climate. This has included pausing some planned freeway expansion.

The Metro budget presents another important opportunity to prioritize equity and climate. Please don't increase annual freeway spending. Please don't decrease transit expansion.

No discretionary funding should go to freeway expansion. No freeway funding should be accelerated faster than what was approved by voters in Measure M.

Measure M does not explicitly specify any freeway widening. The current proposed Metro budget is going against the multi-modal vision Metro outlined in Measure M. Please keep your promises to L.A. County voters by increasing the annual transit expansion budget and not increasing the freeway expansion budget.

Thank you,

Subject: Please stop widening freeways

Dear Finance Committee, Board Chair Solis, and CEO Stephanie Wiggins,

Please stop widening freeways. Metro's 2023 budget shows a planned 33% increase in Freeway spending, this comes after last year's 80% increase in freeway spending, and at the same time as transit expansion funding is being decreased in 2023.

No discretionary funding should go to freeway expansion. No freeway funding should be accelerated faster than scheduled in Measure M.

Vehicle trips are the main source of air pollution in Southern California and the largest source of CO2 emissions in the state. More than 1 million Angelenos live within 1,000ft of a freeway and breathe toxic air. Widening freeways displaces homes, businesses, and disproportionately impacting BIPOC communities while failing to mitigate congestion as promised due to induced demand.

It's vital Metro stop spending more on wasteful and harmful freeway projects as we face the critical threats of climate change, fossil fuel reliance, and traffic violence. I ask that you adjust the 2023 budget to reduce highway spending below 2021 levels and increase spending on improving transit and bike share.

Thank you,

Dear Finance Committee, Board Chair Solis, and CEO Stephanie Wiggins,

As a new resident of LA, who moved to begin a job at USC, I hope you consider the following when considering your 2023 budget to make LA a liveable and safe city for my family and others.

-- Please stop widening freeways. Vehicle trips are the major source of air pollution in Southern California. Widening freeways displaces communities, and worsens pollution, all while failing to mitigate congestion due to induced demand.

-- Please prioritize Safer streets. Motorists continue to kill pedestrians and cyclists at record numbers in LA, including just last week at Griffith park.

It's vital Metro stop spending more on wasteful and harmful freeway projects as we face the critical threats of climate change, fossil fuel reliance, and traffic violence. I ask that you adjust the 2023 budget to reduce highway spending below 2021 levels and increase spending on improving transit and bike share.

Dear Finance Committee, Board Chair Solis, and CEO Stephanie Wiggins,

Please stop widening freeways. Metro's 2023 budget shows another increase in Freeway spending, after already increasing last year's freeway spending, and at the same time transit expansion funding is being decreased in 2023. No discretionary funding should go to freeway expansion. No freeway funding should be accelerated faster than scheduled in Measure M.

This backpedals our efforts to meet our carbon reduction goals and puts us on the wrong side of history. By widening freeways we create a short term solution that comes with many more long term problems. Vehicle trips are the main source of air pollution in Southern California and the largest source of CO2 emissions in the state. More than 1 million Angelenos live within 1,000ft of a freeway and breathe toxic air. Widening freeways will only bring in more cars by induced demand. Please reference the countless studies on this topic. This is not an experiment that needs to be tested. We already know what harm highway expansion causes.

It's vital Metro stop spending more on wasteful and harmful freeway projects as we face the critical threats of climate change, fossil fuel reliance, and traffic violence. I ask that you adjust the 2023 budget to reduce highway spending below 2021 levels and increase spending on improving transit and bike share.

The current bus service hours is inadequate, particularly in the San Fernando and San Gabriel Valleys. Many buses still run hourly which makes it difficult to transfer to other bus or rail lines and thereby reducing transit ridership. We need to provide frequent service even in the valleys.

Metros priority should be serving the greatest number of citizens and investing in our current and future needs. Los Angeles needs major public transit investment NOW. Our transit systems are utterly inadequate to support the population and to invest in highways is in direct opposition to that need. At what point do we say “enough”?!

More than 1 million Angelenos live within 1,000ft of a freeway and breathe toxic air. Widening freeways displaces homes, businesses, and disproportionately impacting BIPOC communities while failing to mitigate congestion as promised due to induced demand.

It's vital Metro stop spending more on wasteful and harmful freeway projects as we face the critical threats of climate change, fossil fuel reliance, and traffic violence. I ask that you adjust the 2023 budget to reduce highway spending below 2021 levels and increase spending on improving transit and bike share. We need other ways to get around -- healthier ways to get around and healthier air quality to get around in.

Thank you,

Dear Finance Committee, Board Chair Solis, and CEO Stephanie Wiggins,

Please stop widening freeways. Metro's 2023 budget shows a planned 33% increase in Freeway spending, this comes after last year's 80% increase in freeway spending, and at the same time as transit expansion funding is being decreased in 2023.

No discretionary funding should go to freeway expansion. No freeway funding should be accelerated faster than scheduled in Measure M.

Why are there traffic jams on 8 lane freeways?

LA's biggest problem is the # of cars on the road.

Look what has happened in Amsterdam, and now happening in Paris and Mexico City.

Dear Finance Committee, Board Chair Solis, and CEO Stephanie Wiggins,

I urge Metro in the strongest possible terms to stop widening freeways. Metro's 2023 budget shows a planned 33% increase in Freeway spending, this comes after last year's 80% increase in freeway spending, and at the same time as transit expansion funding is being decreased in 2023.

Widening freeways displaces homes, businesses, and disproportionately impacting BIPOC communities while failing to mitigate congestion as promised due to induced demand. I suffer from asthma that is getting worse each year as LA's air quality continues to deteriorate. My doctor recommended I wear a mask outdoors 100% of the time to prevent further exacerbation of this problem. Think about that for one moment - the air quality in one of the richest and most progressive cities in this country is so toxic that doctors are recommending that healthy young people wear a mask in order to be outdoors.

It's vital Metro stop spending more on wasteful and harmful freeway projects as we face the critical threats of climate change, fossil fuel reliance, and traffic violence. I ask that you adjust the 2023 budget to reduce highway spending below 2021 levels and increase spending on improving transit and bike share. We KNOW that freeway expansion DOES NOT WORK to reduce traffic or commute times by car. It is criminal to continue investing in fossil fuel infrastructure at this time.

Thank you,

Please stop widening freeways. Metro's 2023 budget shows a planned 33% increase in Freeway spending, this comes after last year's 80% increase in freeway spending, and at the same time as transit expansion funding is being decreased in 2023.

No discretionary funding should go to freeway expansion. No freeway funding should be accelerated faster than scheduled in Measure M.

Vehicle trips are the main source of air pollution in Southern California and the largest source of CO2 emissions in the state. More than 1 million Angelenos live within 1,000ft of a freeway and breathe toxic air. Widening freeways displaces homes, businesses, and disproportionately impacting BIPOC communities while failing to mitigate congestion as promised due to induced demand.

It's vital Metro stop spending more on wasteful and harmful freeway projects as we face the critical threats of climate change, fossil fuel reliance, and traffic violence. I ask that you adjust the 2023 budget to reduce highway spending below 2021 levels and increase spending on improving transit and bike share.

Thank you,

Dear Finance Committee, Board Chair Solis, and CEO Stephanie Wiggins,

I know Los Angeles and the planet cannot afford the true cost of car culture and infrastructure. That is why I've been a voluntary avid transit rider for ~7 years (regular driver for ~4 years) despite having access to my family's car, insurance, registration, maintenance, parking, fuel, time for traffic, emergency funds for accidents and emergencies etc. You need to do your part.

Subject: Metro FY23 Proposed Budget Comments

Hello,

I have some comments regarding the proposed FY23 budget.

I am very disappointed to see that funding for bus and rail transit projects is being reduced despite the 8.8% overall increase in Metro's budget for 2023. Metro needs to keep its eye on the ball and focus on pouring as much money as possible into accelerating the major projects currently in progress. The Regional Connector, Crenshaw Line, and Purple Line are all great, so let's get them to the finish line ASAP so they can begin service. With so many promising projects in the works, and with the extra ARPA money, it's really unfathomable to me why Metro would decrease funding like this. Angelenos deserve better than funding cuts for exactly the types of projects that will improve congestion, pollution, and livability in the region. The ARPA money is such a great opportunity; it is a massive mistake to squander it by not putting the money where it is needed.

On the flip side of short-changing transit projects, I am even more disappointed to see that funding for highway projects has been increased by more than 30%! Have we not learned this lesson already? No amount of freeway widening will ever "fix" traffic. It will only add more pollution, more noise, and more wasted time for everyone. LA has of course been the pioneer of the highway experiment, and it has been an utter failure. Awful traffic, awful air, and communities cleaved in two is all we have gotten out of this. Please, our highways do not need any more investment. They should be maintained, but never expanded (and hopefully someday reduced). We simply must find better ways to get around. See above all the great public transit projects that are getting underfunded! This budget has its priorities exactly backwards. Do better Metro.

To keep this from being entirely negative, I'll say that I do appreciate the move to expand total bus service to above pre-pandemic levels. I hope to see continuing increases in service levels in future years.

P.S. Why is Metro holding this meeting at 1:30PM? This is not a time that is accessible to most people. Especially since Metro is soliciting public comments on this budget, both in writing and during the meeting itself, it really ought to be in the evening when more people can attend. I personally would like to attend, but I'm still at work at that time.

Subject: OPPOSE unless amended - Item 15 - Proposed FY23 Budget

Dear Metro Directors:

I am writing to you as a Metro transit rider and Angeleno who wants to see my investments in Metro be used to make Metro a public-serving agency that provides world-class service to all.

This commitment to world-class service is not evident through the proposed fiscal year 2023 budget and I oppose the budget unless it is amended as follows:

Metro's budget should commit at least $100 million to bus priority roadway infrastructure and also commit near-term funding to both launching the Phase 2 fareless transit pilot for low income riders and developing a plan for universal fareless transit. Metro must invest properly in previously board-supported projects such as NextGen (Metro has failed to provide the service to the promised levels) and a Phase 2 fareless transit pilot for low income riders.

Meanwhile, Metro is continuing to pour money into failed strategies such as an additional $170 million for law enforcement contracts, despite the fact that law enforcement on Metro has failed to keep its riders safe. Metro's budget should adhere to their Public Safety Advisory Committee's recommendations to wind down Metro's law enforcement contracts and instead invest in community-focused safety strategies.

Metro must substantially invest in the programs at Metro that provide service to its ridership - the transit ambassador program, NextGen, and fareless transit - and this commitment must be reflected in the 2023 budget.

Thank you.

Dear Metro Directors:

I am writing to you as a Metro transit rider and Angeleno who wants to see my investments in Metro be used to make Metro a public-serving agency that provides world-class service to all.

As someone who used metro busses for three years to attend highschool, and as someone who lived in Germany for two years, I understand the need for reliable, convenient transportation in our community. Transportation is the key to urban growth and directly affects the quality of living for residents. It is clear that automotive growth is not scalable the way mass transit is. It is time for Metro and other transit authorities to capitalize on this realization and expand development. Angelenos deserve better.

This commitment to world-class service is not evident through the proposed fiscal year 2023 budget and I oppose the budget unless it is amended as follows:

Meanwhile, Metro is continuing to pour money into failed strategies such as an additional $170 million for law enforcement contracts, despite the fact that law enforcement on Metro has failed to keep its riders safe. Metro's budget should adhere to their Public Safety Advisory Committee's recommendations to wind down Metro's law enforcement contracts and instead invest in community-focused safety strategies.

Metro must substantially invest in the programs at Metro that provide service to its ridership - the transit ambassador program, NextGen, and fareless transit - and this commitment must be reflected in the 2023 budget.

Subject: OPPOSE unless amended - Item 15 - Proposed FY23 Budget

Dear Metro Directors:

I am writing to you as a Long Beach, CA Metro transit rider who wants to see my investments in Metro be used to make Metro a public-serving agency that provides world-class service to all.

This commitment to world-class service is not evident through the proposed fiscal year 2023 budget and I oppose the budget unless it is amended as follows:

Metro's budget should commit at least $100 million to bus priority roadway infrastructure and also commit near-term funding to both launching the Phase 2 fareless transit pilot for low income riders and developing a plan for universal fareless transit. Metro must invest properly in previously board-supported projects such as NextGen (Metro has failed to provide the service to the promised levels) and a Phase 2 fareless transit pilot for low income riders.

Meanwhile, Metro is continuing to pour money into failed strategies such as an additional $170 million for law enforcement contracts, despite the fact that law enforcement on Metro has failed to keep its riders safe. Metro's budget should adhere to their Public Safety Advisory Committee's recommendations to wind down Metro's law enforcement contracts and instead invest in community-focused safety strategies.

Dear Metro Directors:

Divest from costly private transportation modes and invest in just and equitable public transit.

I am writing to you as a Metro transit rider and Angeleno who wants to see my investments in Metro be used to make Metro a public-serving agency that provides world-class service to all.

This commitment to world-class service is not evident through the proposed fiscal year 2023 budget and I oppose the budget unless it is amended as follows:

Metro's budget should commit at least $100 million to bus priority roadway infrastructure and also commit near-term funding to both launching the Phase 2 fareless transit pilot for low income riders and developing a plan for universal fareless transit. Metro must invest properly in previously board-supported projects such as NextGen (Metro has failed to provide the service to the promised levels) and a Phase 2 fareless transit pilot for low income riders.

Meanwhile, Metro is continuing to pour money into failed strategies such as an additional $170 million for law enforcement contracts, despite the fact that law enforcement on Metro has failed to keep its riders safe. Metro's budget should adhere to their Public Safety Advisory Committee's recommendations to wind down Metro's law enforcement contracts and instead invest in community-focused safety strategies.

Metro must substantially invest in the programs at Metro that provide service to its ridership - the transit ambassador program, NextGen, and fareless transit - and this commitment must be reflected in the 2023 budget.

Thank you,

Subject: Budget 2023 LA Metro -> More bus lanes, More bikes lanes. Less highways.

Dear representatives,

Hope this finds you well.

Please stop widening freeways. Metro's 2023 budget shows a planned 33% increase in Freeway spending, this comes after last year's 80% increase in freeway spending, and at the same time as transit expansion funding is being decreased in 2023.

No discretionary funding should go to freeway expansion. No freeway funding should be accelerated faster than scheduled in Measure M.

Vehicle trips are the main source of air pollution in Southern California and the largest source of CO2 emissions in the state. More than 1 million Angelenos live within 1,000ft of a freeway and breathe toxic air. Widening freeways displaces homes, businesses, and disproportionately impacting BIPOC communities while failing to mitigate congestion as promised due to induced demand.

It is vital that Metro LA stop spending more on wasteful and harmful freeway projects as we face the critical threats of climate change, fossil fuel reliance, and traffic violence. I ask that you adjust the 2023 budget to reduce highway spending below 2021 levels and increase spending on improving transit and bike share :

- dedicated bus lanes to incentivize uptake
- dedicated bike lanes to incentivize uptake
- tram and subway expansions
- better sidewalks and crosswalks

= more liveable, safer, and less polluted city.

Best,

Dear Finance Committee, Board Chair Solis, and CEO Stephanie Wiggins,

Metro's 2023 budget shows a planned 33% increase in freeway spending.

We are in a climate crisis, and since over a third of emissions come from the transportation sector, it is imperative that no freeway funding should be accelerated faster than scheduled in Measure M.

In addition to greenhouse gas emissions, pollution from cars and trucks is causing a multitude of health issues among the million or so Angelenos who live within 1,000 feet of the freeways.

I ask that you adjust the 2023 budget to reduce highway spending below 2021 levels and increase spending on improving transit and bike infrastructure.

Thank you for your attention to this matter.

[REDACTED]

Under your leadership, Chair Solis and CEO Wiggins, Metro is taking important worthwhile steps toward equity and climate. This has included pausing some planned freeway expansion.

The Metro budget presents another important opportunity to prioritize equity and climate. Please don't increase annual freeway spending. Please don't decrease transit expansion.

No discretionary funding should go to freeway expansion. No freeway funding should be accelerated faster than what was approved by voters in Measure M.

Measure M does not explicitly specify any freeway widening. The current proposed Metro budget is going against the multi-modal vision Metro outlined in Measure M. Please keep your promises to L.A. County voters by increasing the annual transit expansion budget and not increasing the freeway expansion budget.

Please stop widening freeways. Vehicle trips are the major source of air pollution in Southern California. widening freeways displaces communities, and worsens pollution, all while failing to mitigate congestion due to induced demand.

Please prioritize Safer streets. Motorists continue to kill pedestrians and cyclists at record numbers in LA, including just last week at Griffith park.

This backpedals our efforts to meet our carbon reduction goals and puts us on the wrong side of history. By widening freeways we create a short term solution that comes with many more long term problems. Vehicle trips are the main source of air pollution in Southern California and the largest source of CO2 emissions in the state. More than 1 million Angelenos live within 1,000ft of a freeway and breathe toxic air. Widening freeways will only bring in more cars by induced demand. Please reference the countless studies on this topic. This is not an experiment that needs to be tested. We already know what harm highway expansion causes.

making streets safer for all users including pedestrians, cyclists, and micromobility users to complete short journeys and "last mile" legs.

Los Angeles could be a wonderful city if it weren't for all the private cars and road infrastructure. Emissions contribute to health problems and climate crisis, and drivers routinely strike and injure or kill pedestrians and cyclists. We need to move away from road dependency swiftly. It is not a time for new or expanded freeway infrastructure.

Instead, please fund transit, bus-only lanes, protected bike lanes, and operator pay.

Choices made now will affect the region for decades. I implore you at Metro to lead us out of individual car culture, which is nothing short of lethal, and into a healthy and more equitable future for the city and the region.

The current bus service hours is inadequate, particularly in the San Fernando and San Gabriel Valleys. Many buses still run hourly which makes it difficult to transfer to other bus or rail lines and thereby reducing transit ridership. We need to provide frequent service even in the valleys.

We need safer sidewalks, bike lanes, and public transit options—not bigger freeways.

I live next to the 101 Freeway. Please stop funding freeway expansions, even when local officials misleadingly call them "hotspot improvements". Widening the 5 in Santa Clarita adds more soot to my neighborhood and my apartment. My neighborhood is extremely polluted. We have broken sidewalks, no parks, rampant homelessness (because we are a renter area and single-family neighborhoods who drive more than us push homelessness into the underpasses in renter areas).

Please TOLL the freeways and fund bikeshare, bus lanes, and first-last mile connections instead.

If Burbank can't stomach a bus lane, fine--cut its portion of funding for the NoHo-Pas BRT line and send the line south through Glendale and across Los Feliz Blvd into Hollywood. Make it easier for me to get to Costco.

wages. You're getting a lot of funding from sales tax due to inflation, but you haven't adjusted wages accordingly.

I'm very glad you had this survey - and that you published the results and notified us. This is great community outreach and prioritization. Thank you.

In the meantime Fastrack prices are ridiculous!!! I've seen charges as high as $15 to get from the 105 freeway to DTLA for ONE WAY. When will we have a meeting to discuss this? This is supposed to be reasonably priced and other counties aren't that high.

My sister, age 89, got caught in a fracas on the train out of Santa Monica on 4/4/22. A fight ensued and she was knocked into and got pepper sprayed. The perpetrator left once the train stopped as a result of pushing the red button and blocking the door closing.

IT TOOK A WHILE FOR COPS OR EMTS TO RESPOND. RIDING THE EXPO TRAIN IS UNSAFE.

We all have our up and downs but your drivers do a phenomenal. keep in mind that customers come and go but the bus line will be that in which transforms people's lives carry on

Phenomenal job carry on

Why you can't operate the Metro in a clean and safe manner

Is beyond any common sense,

Express bus lines in Burbank will not help transportation, but rather thwart traffic. Any funds spent on this proposal is a waste of money.

Make rides on buses and metro for free, especially for people over 65.

Thanks you very much.

expansion is bad for equity, as it prioritizes drivers above individuals who do not get around buy car. Freeway projects increase driving, increases air/water/noise pollution - including generating greenhouse gas emissions.

Current Metro freeway plans are well in excess of what projects were intended in 2016 when voters approved Measure M. Metro is accelerating freeway projects ahead of their Measure M schedule, and adding more lanes than were planned prior to 2016.

Ideally, Metro should declare a climate emergency and zero out all freeway expansion spending - though this would be politically difficult, it needed.

More realistically, specifically for the FY23 budget, Metro should not increase the freeway expansion capital budget - currently proposed to expand more than 30%. No discretionary funding should go to freeway expansion. No freeway funding should be accelerated faster than scheduled in Measure M.

Instead of prioritizing/growing freeway expansion funding, Metro should prioritize transit expansion (and active transportation, affordable housing) - this should include more bus lanes and accelerated delivery of transit projects.

we're in a climate crisis - increasing the budget for freeway expansion and cutting transit expansion is UNCONSCIONABLE. the Metro budget needs to reflect the moment of inflection that we're at - expanding transit and de-prioritizing freeway/roadway/car-centered transit completely unacceptable. This goes against any goals of combatting climate change, improving air quality, increasing equity, and decreasing traffic violence. We are in the midst of a climate catastrophe, and it is well understood that widening highways/roadways increases VMTs (and thus emissions). Lower income people are far less likely to own a car and are thus more likely to rely on public transportation, so investing in public transportation is the more equitable option. In addition, lower income people are more likely to live near major highways/roadways where air quality is particularly bad, and expanding these highways/roadways will only further this injustice. Finally, in order to reduce traffic violence and move towards Vision Zero goals, LA Metro should be making it easier for people to move around the city without a car, rather than trying to make it easier for people in cars to get around. Between traffic violence and air pollution, cars are responsible for many injuries and deaths in Los Angeles. LA Metro's budget should be trying to correct that. LA Metro should be vastly increasing spending on zero emission public transit to get more people out of their cars, and should cease to spend money on futile highway/roadway expansion projects. Even if the sole goal is to reduce traffic, we know that expanding roadways/highways does not accomplish this due to induced demand. Instead, increasing access to convenient and frequent public transportation options will get more people out of their cars and reduce traffic. At this point in time, there is absolutely no reason that LA Metro should be spending any money on highway/roadway expansion, let alone increasing spending.

I'd like to see less funding for highway expansion and more funding for public transit

greenhouse gas emissions and equity yet you are increasing highway widening expenditures? Traffic around the city right now is horrendous and if we want a more equitable city that is a beacon for economic growth, freeway widening are not the answer. They will just make things worse, just look at Texas. Transit expansion will actually meet the agencies goals of reducing greenhouse gas emissions by lowering vehicle miles traveled and solves problems with equity.

Re: FY23 Proposed budget

It is absurd that Metro continues to increase spending on car capacity projects while paring back transit service and Capex. Despite lofty goals and lipservice to taking equity and climate change seriously, budgets lay bare what the real priorities are maintaining the auto-centric status quo.

LA County deserves better

Shame on you increasing your funding for highway projects. We all took the community survey and told you MORE BUS/RAIL SERVICE and CLEANER FACILITIES.

Please stop widening freeways! We need funding for transit and mobility, not infrastructure that will harm public health, increase carbon emissions, and is shown NOT to reduce traffic but rather increase it!

please fund public transit and not cars and highways

This comes after last year's 80% increase in freeway spending, and at the same time as transit expansion funding is being decreased in 2023.

Freeways continue to cause massive health and climate impacts among LA's most vulnerable populations while making traffic worse. This money should be spent elsewhere; I would look to public transit as a perfect place for this.

more pollution and displacement in this city - it's killing people. No one in the next generation you are building for wants wider highways, we want walkable streets and a more connected city through public transport. Car transport is an unsustainable means for future growth of LA, and it will just turn it into more of a disaster. Please preserve the beauty that's left of the city by stopping the bulldozing of neighborhoods for highways and increasing pollution.

Please do not increase budgets for widening freeways. The bus system is increasingly unreliable, and desperately needs the investment. Freeway expansion drives more emissions.

do not give more money to freeways, invest in public transit!!!! get those damn subways built pls thank u! hasnt research shown freeway expansion does little to nothing to alleviate traffic?

Please do not increase spending on freeways and especially towards widening the freeways. Widening the freeways does not help with traffic overall and will worsen the surrounding communities by increasing pollution, noise, and vehicle conflict. Use the budget for public transit and bike shares. Please use it to add more competent security for the light rails Metro as it increasingly feels unsafe to ride them these days.

Please prioritize the needs of your core ridership (especially bus riders), climate goals, and mode shift.

Please don't expand freeway budget. Building more freeways does not reduce traffic since it does not get at the root cause. We need expanded public transportation and safe bike lanes. Please cars a leading cause of death in our country. We need help getting people out of them.

Please do not increase the Freeway budget, and us that money to roll out more bus only lanes. People are fed up with traffic and high gas prices, but we need to offer them some competitive alternatives.

We recommend spending less on widening freeways and more on things like:

 bus lanes

 free transit

 better operator pay

 bike lanes

IF YOU ACTUALLY CARE ABOUT THIS CITY, MAKE LA LESS CAR DEPENDENT PLEASE

Metro should prioritize transit and pedestrian infrastructure funding. Metro should de prioritize car infrastructure spending and eliminate freeway expansion.

Please stop widening freeways. Metro's 2023 budget shows a planned 33% increase in Freeway spending, this comes after last year's 80% increase in freeway spending, and at the same time as transit expansion funding is being decreased in 2023.

DO NOT spend more money to widen freeways. It will NOT reduce congestion, only worsen the ongoing climate crisis. Please spend more on public transportation instead.

DO NOT INCREASE FREEWAY SPENDING! FREEWAYS CONTINUE TO CAUSE HEALTH AND CLIMATE IMPACTS. SPEND YOUR $ ON THE INFRASTRUCTURE TO COVER TRENCHED FREEWAYS WITH PARKS!

expansion.

Stop widening freeways. Improve public transit and active transit

I strongly oppose the budget's increase in spending on highway construction/expansion. This money would be much better spent on bus lanes, bike lanes, free transit, and better operator pay. We have an urgent need to invest heavily in areas that work towards our climate and equity goals!

congestion. For equity, for the climate crisis, and for a more enjoyable metro area, we must prioritize our spending on transit.

Please prioritize bicycling and public transportation, not cars.

I am very opposed to widening freeways for more lanes of auto use. I am in favor of intergrating monorails, lightrail and bus only lanes into the existing freeway system.

makes it worse. People want better public transit options in the city to get around. Please reallocate these funds to public transit -- bus and rail -- and increased protected biked lanes. With climate change a threat to our daily lives, we should not be financing the future destruction of our environment, which is exactly what freeway expansion guarantees.

It is imperative that you increase bus funding in the 2023 budget. Metro's own staff in interviews w LA Times have described the system as "in crisis" and as a regular rider of Metro buses, I sadly agree. Bus service is continually cancelling trips and bus lines (such as the 2 and the 4) that are supposed to run every 5 minutes are coming every 20 minutes. All of this is on top of a resuming of fare collection in January, which came at a time when service got markedly worse. Increasing spending on freeway widening while starving bus service, at the same time as you charge folks to ride a dysfunctional system, is a horrible and anti-working class way to run a public transit service. Please change course immediately.

Please invest in public transit, NOT freeways.

I would like to advocate for less spending on expanding freeways and more investment in public transportation, Angeles. We need to STOP investing in ineffective and deadly car infrastructure, and instead allocate more money for public transit and bike infrastructure that would make LA a safer, more equitable, and more livable city. To continue pouring money into freeway expansion which we know DOES NOT WORK to ease traffic or commute times is pure insanity. We cannot keep repeating the mistakes of the past over and over again. We must use public funds for public good. We need more bus routes with better service, updated bus stops that offer shelter from sun & rain, protected bike lanes for cyclists, dedicated bus lanes to improve service efficiency. NO MORE FREEWAY EXPANSIONS that harm our communities and pump more and more pollution into our environment. Clinging to car infrastructure as we careen over the edge of the climate crisis is a crime against LA's citizenry now and in the future.

Please don't widen the freeways. Take the money that you're planning on using to widen freeways and instead, increase bus frequency, expand bus service routes, and increase bus driver pay. Next Gen bus service deserves to be funded, and every city across LA County needs more dedicated bus lanes that enhance travel times and get drivers out of their cars.

$634.1 million in highway infrastructure development? An increase of $159M? I don't mean to sound like a crank but your increase in highway construction is higher than the total committed by your agency to Metrolink ($126M). That's concerning to me. I'd like to see commitments by Metro and Metrolink to purchase Class 1 rail ROWs outright, to double track single-tracked areas, to begin pushing for infill stations and multiple-unit trains that can serve closer-spaced stations with better acceleration.

I love what Metro is going with Metro Rail - but I'd like to see more. More buses, more dedicated buses, and better bus driver pay. More funding from Metro as you push Metrolink for more regional trains, more regional stations, and control of the railroads themselves.

I know you guys aren't Metrolink, but your funding serves their customers - and I hope the general message for no freeway widening, and more bus and train services is going to the right place. Thanks for listening.

I strongly oppose increasing the budget for freeway expansion, and I support increasing the budget instead for transit operations and expansion. In the midst of a burgeoning climate crisis, we cannot afford to spend our tax dollars to increase carbon output and divide communities - plus freeway expansion only leads to induced demand, as has been demonstrated time and again in countless studies. Instead, the focus should be on increasing transit frequency and availability, working to make it an enjoyable and time-saving experience, so we can get polluting cars off the road and tie our neighborhoods together, not divide them with massive freeways.

Long Beach and the harbor area needs better east-west options, and I don't see even a bus lane planned when other areas including some of the most wealthy areas in the country are receiving huge mega projects. Green Line to CSULB would benefit many communities in need where there is a lot of development and no more room for parking and cars.

spending. This decision would exacerbate climate change, hurt mobility in LA, have no long term improvement to traffic, and would have negative equity implications. I firmly hope to see a change in the budget to shift more dollars to transit.

region are well-known. Metro's FY 2023 Budget proposes a hike in funding directed towards freeway construction and decreases the quantity for transit construction. This is unacceptable in the face of the climate crisis, rising deaths on our streets from car collisions, and ever-increasing traffic (even when freeway widenings do occur). Reallocate funds away from freeway construction to transit construction, by decreasing the percentage of funding allocated to freeways in comparison to the FY 2022 Budget, not the other way around. Thank you.

As a resident, I keep hearing metro tout that they are serving a majority people with no car. While this is certainly important, I think metro needs to start focusing more on ridership of individuals that have other options.

First, it is critical that metro help get drivers off of roads. I, for one, have to own a car, because my 45 min commute would become 2+ hours on Metro.

Second, metro services and safety have gone downhill tremendously since a few years ago. Many services have been delayed or canceled altogether, and it feels far more unsafe to ride. Recently, I haven't seen a single security officer or security measure in place at the stations I frequent. And, if I can't see them, that means they aren't having a good deterrence effect. The rides have been pretty hazardous, with trash and human waste around. I like riding, and therefore am not too deterred, but this is really not acceptable.

Finally, with these issues standing as they are, Metro is providing an unsafe and substandard transit ridership experience. For those with options, they can accept the risks, but for those that can't, Metro is just providing a substandard service to those already struggling. I say underserving the underserved communities.

In the next year, I hope the budget prioritizes raising the number of car owners that metro serves. Not because they need it, but because an increase in car owners proves that metro is not failing our car-free neighbors.

Best regards!

Please, you should be cutting freeway spending that harms the environment, and shifting more resources towards rights of way that can actually increase in capacity (e.g., bus lanes, bike lanes, increased frequency of transit, etc.). The proposed budget increases freeway spending by 33%? It's absurd, totally the wrong direction.

I would urge Metro to not push forward any increase to freeway spending and construction beyond what is included in schedule M. Indeed, I think that schedule M has gone too far in fostering a car-dependent landscape that disproportionately affects poor communities by introducing them to increased levels of air pollution, financially burdening them, reducing walkability in their neighborhoods, and artificially manufacturing sprawl in development that exacerbate each and every one of these problems several times over. Please reconsider your budgeting tactics and start prioritizing other forms of transit, such as tram, train, bus, bicycles, walking, etc., over our unhealthy addiction to low-passenger automobiles.

Please stop widening freeways. It only puts more cars on the road and makes traffic worse. Please start seriously investing in transit. This city is so behind other world class cities with livable transit systems.

Highly recommend spending less on widening freeways and more on things like:

 bus lanes

 free transit

 better operator pay

 bike lanes

ie. Better Decongestion and Liveability !

Please spend less (much, much less) on freeways and much more on transit. Focus on improving the bus system.

SPEND MONEY ON BUSES AND DESIGNING SAFE ROADS YOU ABSOLUTE IDIOTS

making streets safer for all users including pedestrians, cyclists, and micromobility users to complete short journeys and "last mile" legs.

Los Angeles could be a wonderful city if it weren't for all the private cars and road infrastructure. Emissions contribute to health problems and climate crisis, and drivers routinely strike and injure or kill pedestrians and cyclists. We need to move away from road dependency swiftly. It is not a time for new or expanded freeway infrastructure.

Instead, please fund transit, bus-only lanes, protected bike lanes, and operator pay.

Choices made now will affect the region for decades. I implore you at Metro to lead us out of individual car culture, which is nothing short of lethal, and into a healthy and more equitable future for the city and the region.

I don't understand how you can overfund highways, which we all know don't reduce traffic and do worsen climate change, and underfund transit. This is budget is a slap in the face to all who want clean air, faster commutes, and a more just transit future. Fund bus lanes, better operator pay, free transit, and bike lanes. Defund infrastructure (highways) that is killing this community.

It makes no sense for a transit agency to be raising the budget for highway expansion while not increasing the budget of transit operations. In the middle of a climate crisis. It's absurd, dangerous, and frankly stupid.

An increase in transit funding is the only sensible choice for underserved communities. Expanding freeways will do little curb traffic. However, less people in cars will improve traffic.

Please prioritize making LA a safe and liveable city. This includes funding bike lanes, bus rapid transit, rail, instead of widening freeways. I support maintenance of existing roads, but not expansion. Motorists are already killing pedestrians and cyclists at record rates since the pandemic, including just last week at Griffith park.

FY2023 Budget should NOT increase funding for highways. Please shift the increased Highway spending to transit operations.

Dear Finance Committee, Board Chair Solis, and CEO Stephanie Wiggins,

I know Los Angeles and the planet cannot afford the true cost of car culture and infrastructure. That is why I've been a voluntary avid transit rider for ~7 years (regular driver for ~4 years) despite having access to my family's car, insurance, registration, maintenance, parking, fuel, time for traffic, emergency funds for accidents and emergencies etc. You need to do your part.

Please stop widening freeways. Metro's 2023 budget shows a planned 33% increase in Freeway spending, this comes after last year's 80% increase in freeway spending, and at the same time as transit expansion funding is being decreased in 2023.

No discretionary funding should go to freeway expansion. No freeway funding should be accelerated faster than scheduled in Measure M.

Vehicle trips are the main source of air pollution in Southern California and the largest source of CO2 emissions in the state. More than 1 million Angelenos live within 1,000ft of a freeway and breathe toxic air. Widening freeways displaces homes, businesses, and disproportionately impacting BIPOC communities while failing to mitigate congestion as promised due to induced demand.

It's vital Metro stop spending more on wasteful and harmful freeway projects as we face the critical threats of climate change, fossil fuel reliance, and traffic violence. I ask that you adjust the 2023 budget to reduce highway spending below 2021 levels and increase spending on improving transit and bike share.

Thank you,

[REDACTED]

In your 2023 budget, can you please reallocate any money meant to widen freeways to instead spend it on dedicated bus lanes (such as down Sunset Blvd between Santa Monica and Downtown LA), more protected bike lanes literally everywhere (not a day goes by that I get yelled at or raced towards by a rushed motorist not paying attention and doing something illegal), better operator pay, and increased bus frequency?

Also we'd have less of a safety issue on Metro if we ran the trains and busses more. Someone harassing you? Hop off and wait 5min for the next train. This is how New York handles the issue, and would result in spending less money on cops and more money on better service.

Please stop widening freeways. More protected bike lanes, active transit. More bus rapid transit and expedited rail/subway projects.

Please find more PUBLIC TRANSIT!! Operations, expansions, etc.

NO more money for freeways!!

whole, and disproportionately harms marginalized communities. Rather than allocating County resources to widening freeways, please reallocate those funds to initiatives that improve residents' lives such as pedestrian infrastructure (e.g. wider sidewalks, curb cuts, more clearly marked intersections), bike lanes, public transit, and accessibility.

Stop widening freeways and invest in public transit! Gas prices are through the roofs and people are utilizing alternative modes of transportation. We need to create more opportunities for people to get places in shorter times that are accessible to all.

Please freeze freeway spending at current levels! It's unacceptable that in the year 2022 we're continuing to increase funding for for car travel vs. transit expansion & service improvements. Do better.

Absolutely no more freeway expansion. This city needs to divest from freeways and commit those funds to free public transit, upgraded routes and schedules, protected bike lanes, more expansive rail that connects to IE/OC as well as better regional rail, and better operator pay

Please do not increase budget for freeway expansion. Please invest that money in climate-friendly solutions including improved bus/subway/light rail systems, bike lane expansion, and pedestrian-friendly streets. In the current climate crisis we CANNOT AFFORD to put more money into expanding automobile use in L.A. County.

Please stop widening freeways. Metro's 2023 budget shows a planned 33% increase in Freeway spending, this comes after last year's 80% increase in freeway spending, and at the same time as transit expansion funding is being decreased in 2023.

[REDACTED] need to invest transit so people have an alternative to the car. further freeway expansion simply hardens the dependency and use of freeways and it is clear that freeways destroy homes and neighborhoods, fill up every time expanded and further expansion does nothing to improve traffic. transit does proven that widening highways and improving capacity does little to relieve traffic. The money that is spent on the freeway expansions and upgrades should be spent on public transit. Our bus service is abysmal and more money should be spent on bus priority lanes, cue jumps, and signal priority. If we want people to use public transit it has to be fast.

monies to highway expansion than it did in 2022, as well as cutting earlier proposed funding for NextGen bus lanes and the High Desert Multipurpose Corridor (high-speed rail) studies. This is very disappointing, and in light of metro's commitment to lesson our regional reliance on private automobiles, does not make sense.

I must urge Metro to continue on it's incredible track record of making the Los Angeles region more accessible to people via transit, and prioritize BRT and light rail solutions while de-prioritizing reliance on private automobiles. Perhaps I am misunderstanding the numbers here, but it is very frustrating, with the current boom in light rail expansion and the burgeoning of more housing in our region along transit corridors that, instead of focusing it's funds on serving communities with transit, metro is seeking to spend more than ever on highway expansion. This is a step in the wrong direction, though I understand the Agencies duties are broad and expansive, I must insist that priority be given to transit projects and we begin to move past parking lots, cars, and endless highways. It's the best choice for our most vulnerable populations, the environment, and the long-term health and survival of our city and state.

Thank you for all you do!

Please no more money for freeway expansion. We are tired of car pollution and noise and having our homes and wild life sacrificed. We want other means of transportation, safer streets for bikes and people and a better train system!! If you can find money to boost up freeways year over year, you can find money to expand our rail and protected bike lanes! I am a young, non-car-dependant Angeleno, I have been on the freeway only once since the start of this year as a passenger. Using my tax money for more freeways does not benefit me!

Why is metro allocating so much money to freeways? We need to stop expanding highways and make the transit system fast and safe.

on so many levels. I hope that you see fit to reallocate that money to transit, complete streets projects, bikeways, and other transportation projects which would increase mobility without creating induced demand for more freeway lanes.

Because, Making more room for more cars to drive faster is an oxymoron relative to our urgent need to reduce greenhouse gas emissions.

Build it & they will come works both ways: If you widen freeways we'll have more cars going faster.

If protected bike lanes and safer, more frequent crosswalks are added to our roads, more people will walk, bike, skate and transport themselves in ways that consume little or no fossil fuels.

Why are there traffic jams on 8 lane freeways?

LA's biggest problem is the # of cars on the road.

Look what has happened in Amsterdam, and now happening in Paris and Mexico City.

congestion. For equity, for the climate crisis, and for a more enjoyable metro area, we must prioritize our spending on transit.

I was born and raised in Los Angeles. I am a child of Stage 3 Smog Alerts. Please stop widening freeways.

I have been without a car for 4 years now - relying on Metro buses and rail. I want to see public transit expanded, and I want to see safe biking options throughout LA.

I know Los Angeles and the planet cannot afford the true cost of car culture and infrastructure. That is why I've been a voluntary avid transit rider for ~7 years (regular driver for ~4 years) despite having access to my family's car, insurance, registration, maintenance, parking, fuel, time for traffic, emergency funds for accidents and emergencies etc. You need to do your part.

I shouldn't have to be emailing about this. The data is overwhelmingly obvious: We need to stop widening freeways immediately.

After skimming the budget until my eyes watered, I appreciate the promise of increasing bus reliability and comfort. While the 100,000 school children with free transit access represents a 25% increase, it seems a very low number relative to the number of children/families who would benefit from free passes. I noticed an emphasis that what this budget funds is "For the People". Who else would it be for? I am especially grateful to Joe Linton for his review and comments on this budget. I agree with Joe so the rest of my opinion is at <https://la.streetsblog.org/2021/05/25/busting-some-metro-highway-program-fy22-budget-myths/> Thank you.

Please stop freeway expansion, it is an absurd waste of money and resources.

It is completely inhumane and revolting to fund freeway expansion more than transit expansion when it 100% confirmed that freeway expansion does not reduce traffic in the long run. Please change this. I am ashamed of Metro as a frequent transit rider.

Please stop widening freeways. Metro's 2023 budget shows a planned 33% increase in Freeway spending. This comes after last year's 80% increase in freeway spending at the same time that transit expansion funding is being decreased in 2023.

Perhaps even more compelling is that freeway widening just does not work in the long or even medium term. The fact that lane additions do NOT decrease congestion has been a part of transit literature for decades and is now common knowledge among enlightened transit authorities. Certainly congestion improves in the year or two after lane additions, but rarely if ever do they reduce it in the long term. To continue this design principle borders on malpractice and a waste of taxpayer funds.

It's vital Metro stop spending more on wasteful and harmful freeway projects as we face the critical threats of climate change, fossil fuel reliance, and traffic violence. I ask that you adjust the 2023 budget to reduce highway spending below 2021 levels and increase spending on improving transit frequency and safety, bike share, and expanded safe bike networks.

Thank you,

Stop widening freeways

Stop expanding freeway capacity

I recently reviewed the FY2023 budget proposal, and would like Metro to increase its share of funding in transit capital construction and decrease its freeway and highway capital budget. We need a higher amount of dollars spent on improving bus and rail service to better serve LA county. Please do not waste these valuable dollars on freeway widening, rather consider restoring bus service to pre-2020 levels or advancements on our rail and bus systems. Thank you

It's a travesty that Metro is cutting transit spending while increasing highway spending - all your talk of climate change and greenhouse gas emissions and induced demand was all a lie, apparently, since you choose to double down on highway spending on roadway expansions at the expense of the silent majority that wants a greener cleaner future for LA County. Shame on Stephanie and the Board for advancing this highway centric budget that ignores the needs of the most transit dependent riders in the region.

we going to have the full 8 million plus revenue service hours we have been promised for years? When will Metro stop using the pandemic as an excuse to provide less service and to delay the implementation of NextGen?

Widening freeways only increases the amount of vehicles that will use it, therefore more traffic will be expected and bigger delays. Instead plan on allowing public transport to be more accessible and easier to take. The more you increase public transport and alternate ways, the more it will be used. Plan on offering alternate ways for people to move around without having to use their own vehicle or a taxi services. If offered, most people will commute through public transport or safer street that allows them to use a bicycle to work.

Best,

Please stop building more freeways. Divert more of the budget to other infra that makes short trips safe and convenient via bike/bus/metro, so that we can induce people to make fewer car trips. We have a housing crisis and cannot afford to keep surrendering more valuable land to cars, not to mention the decades-long liability of maintaining new roads, even if their initial cost is heavily subsidized at the federal level.

forth. Charge people to use the freeway. I am subsidizing Metro's freeway expansions every time I pay sales tax, which is regressive, yet auto drivers aren't subsidizing my asthma medication for living next to a freeway they use and I do not. Nor do they subsidize my antidepressants--since freeway soot is linked to depression.

Fund bus lanes. $3m for bus lanes is laughable. That's the cost of three electric buses on the Orange Line, which riders did not ask for and the Mayor used to pretend he made our lives better. We want frequent service! Electrify freight trucks. Electrify SUV's. Electrifying a single bus line with service every 10-30 minutes is more empty virtue signalling. I have the freeway cough to prove it.

Y'all are spending at least $700m to add lanes in Santa Clarita. Why? Because people in Santa Clarita don't want to live near people "like me". They still come through my area to go to Dodger Games, further polluting it, but then go home and take their tax money with them to a segregationist area that has nice parks and usable sidewalks.

You said you were cutting bus service "temporarily" in 2020. How long is "temporary"? I've waited two years and counting for service to be restored. Metro has even gone backwards, implementing additional cuts several months ago because you stopped hiring Metro bus drivers for almost a year while your existing drivers retired and took leaves of absence related to Covid.

Metro had more riders in the 1980's with a quarter of your current budget and zero train lines. It seems like the more money County voters give Metro, the more Metro wastes the money chasing unicorns. "We will widen freeways until there is no more congestion". "We will speed up construction projects that are way over budget and past their original deadlines". "We will attract suburban transit riders who can choose to drive".

When has Metro achieved any of the above? Its $900m extension to Azusa drew 5,500 daily riders, an expense of over $200,000 per new rider. When are you going to spend $200,000 on me and my fellow riders in Central LA, as we sniff each others' armpits on overflowing, delayed buses? We, Metro's brave remaining riders, get staff have repeatedly ignored board directives over the past decade and continue to work to widen freeways, locking in carbon emissions that Metro admits are greater than the total emissions reduction potential of its Measure M program.

transportation. It is unconscionable that freeway spending is increasing year on year for widening projects (and yes, many of these "improvements" involve additional lanes and additional miles), while transit funding is being decreased.

The additional displacements and the additional pollutants arising from the induced demand of freeway widening are toxic to our communities, and for almost no gain. These projects will not solve congestion.

I cannot emphasize enough how crucial it is that Metro re-prioritizes this budget. I implore you to increase spending on active transportation and transit improvements that can actually serve the needs of communities, reduce traffic violence, increase energy independence, and work towards climate goals.

Thank you,

[REDACTED]

Allocate money for more protected bicycle lanes that connect Cal State LA, USC, and UCLA to downtown LA's bus and train hub.

I am disappointed to see that metro is decreasing public transit expansion funding in order to increase freeway widening funding. It is this short sighted type of thinking that has landed our city into the transit and housing shortages that we currently find ourselves in. I urge the board to reconsider.

Please reduce or eliminate the budget assigned to freeway widening and expansion. Other than a few, notable exceptions, most highway expansion serves mainly to increase traffic, congestion, pollution, and community disruption. Better to invest in alternative transport modes.

Thank you

We must STOP widening freeways now!

by 33.5%. We don't need any more highways. We need to build a truly multi-modal city and you're focusing precious resources on projects that will hurt the climate and our air. Please reconsider this budget.

We could be studying high speed rail in the desert corridor, we could be building protected bike lanes and crosswalks, we could be building bus lanes on major corridors, we could complete the Crenshaw-LAX northern extension plans, we could be building the rapid BRT builds down Broadway, Lincoln, Sunset, La Cienega, Wilshire, Sepulveda of Venice. We could be bringing transit service levels to their pre pandemic norms.

I can't afford to reduce my personal climate impact by buying an electric car. And I can't afford drive to work every day because of the cost of gas and parking at my work. But I can't take the metro to work because I work at a movie theater, and I get off of work at 2am. The trains have stopped running at midnight.

Please get your priorities straight. We can't afford to keep widening highways in a city already over saturated with them.

I'm writing to encourage Metro to invest in public transportation options, rather than freeways. This will improve quality of life for millions of people in the region for decades to come. Thank you.

I am shocked to find out how much you are still spending on cars, and not on pedestrians, bicyclists. When is enough just enough? You have the knowledge - now please use your courage to turn the wheel around in favor of anything but cars.

For goodness sake, stop widening freeways and invest more in transit! Both capital and operations budgets for transit need the funding.

We don't need even MORE freeway expansion. Please use that money to improve public transit instead. One of the biggest reasons that Angelenos aren't using public transit is because it just isn't very good. Build it better & people will utilize it! Spending more on freeways just continues the cycle and makes the issue worse!

Please stop widening freeways. It is the exact opposite of what is needed to reduce greenhouse gas emissions.

I commute via bike and the metro L line everyday so I was disheartened to see Metro's plans for increased freeway expansion. We are in desperate need of better bike and micro mobility networks and really any infrastructure that encourages active transportation so I ask you to please redirect the increased money that is going towards freeway expansion/improvements and to put it towards creating and improving our active transportation infrastructure.

Please stop widening freeways. Metro's 2023 budget shows a planned 33% increase in Freeway spending, this comes after last year's 80% increase in freeway spending, and at the same time as transit expansion funding is being decreased in 2023.

Subject: Operations, Safety, and Customer Experience 9AM 5/19/2022

Hello,

I am submitting public comment before Metro 5/19/2022 meeting. My email below should take no more than a minute of time to read or address.

Customer Experience:

I see that the customer experience is extremely downgraded when I see Metro transit officers doing nothing and standing around at LAUS and North Hollywood.

They harass paying customers about their valid tap cards and watch while theft occurs daily at Starbucks and smelly vagrants line the seats of the Metro B line.

Why hire more transit PD if the limits of what they can do are so limited due to the current laws? Proposition 47 was a mistake and needs to be repealed before PD can actually do something?

Training:

Metro PD needs some training on TAP cards so they know about NFC tap cards.

This NFC is always running and they just have to scan users phone (Opening the Metro APP is NOT  needed). I am a busy person and stopping to explain why they just need to scan my phone without opening the APP wastes my time. Metro is running late and I'm late and now I'm being inconvenienced by having to explain my virtual tap to Metro PD...

I do not plan on using a physical tap card and if Metro PD is scanning tap cards for fare evaders then they should at least know what they are doing.

2. Metro PD doesn't kick off the sleeping homeless who are taking up the seats when Red Line pulls into North Hollywood in the early AM hours. It's very smelly even with a face mask. Isn't there somebody who can enforce face mask rule (usually the homeless), drinks (spilled drinks and food  are ALL  over North Hollywood red line/b line stairwell), loud music (profanity laces rap music), and other Metro rules posted?

I thank you for your time and hope my input is taken into consideration as I am a daily paying customer.

Re: Metro Planning and Programming Committee Meeting May 18, 2022
Agenda Items 8 and 9

Dear Chair Dupont-Walker and Members of the Planning and Programming Committee:

On behalf of the undersigned members of the Coalition for Environmental Health & Justice (“CEHAJ”), we write regarding two items coming before the Planning and Programming Committee on May 18, 2022. The first is Agenda Item 8- approval of the “No Build” Alternative as the new Locally Preferred Alternative for the I-710 South Corridor Project (“Project”) Final Environmental Document. The second is Agenda Item 9 -a Motion by Directors Hahn, Solis, Mitchell, and Dutra regarding the I-710 South Corridor and the development of future initiatives. We support Metro officially rejecting freeway widening as a project considered for the I-710 South Corridor. However, we remain wary of any effort to rush through approval of a punch list of projects derivative of the profoundly flawed Alternative 5C without allowing the 710 Task Force time to fully consider alternatives. We ask this Committee to consider revising the Motion 2022-0355 to ensure that the work done to build community trust at the 710 Task Force is not eroded for the sake of expediency.

Agenda item 8- Approving the “No Build” Alternative as the new Locally Preferred Alternative for the I-710 South Corridor Project Final Environmental Document

In May of 2021, we were encouraged by the Board’s passing of Supervisor Solis’ Motion 47, which halted further movement on the FEIR/EIS for Alternative 5C for the Project. This Motion came soon after a letter from Region 9 of the United States Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) was made public, showing its analysis that the widening alternative would violate the Clean Air Act. The Motion followed more than two decades in which freeway-adjacent communities suffering the brunt of air pollution and health impacts consistently asked this agency to consider a better approach that centers on community wellbeing.

Metro’s move last year to halt the freeway widening alternative was a step in the right direction. While we considered the Project dead when the EPA issued its guidance, changing one word in Motion 47 from “cease” to “suspend” unfortunately clouded public perception of Metro’s ultimate intentions. The Board’s approval of the “No Build” Alternative will help clarify the fate of the I-710 South Corridor.

Agenda item 9- Motion by Directors Hahn, Solis, Mitchell, and Dutra

A “No Build” alternative would essentially end the I-710 South Corridor Project as previously conceived. Yet, as Motion 2022-0355 suggests, merely declaring an official end to the old freeway widening plan without further action will not address the ongoing impacts of health-harming air pollution, greenhouse gas emissions, or traffic and safety issues. Therefore, we agree that Metro, State, and Federal agencies should do more to invest the resources necessary to correct these harms.

However, to be effective, any investment strategy must have impacted residents at the decision-making table. Unfortunately, communities along the I-710 Corridor have long been excluded from decision-making on transportation projects that immediately affect them. We have spent the last eight months with Metro staff participating in monthly 710 Task Force meetings and numerous working group meetings to correct this inequity. This process has included the investment of time and energy from hundreds of impacted residents, community leaders, and community-based organizations that have diligently participated in discussions. Metro told participants that the ideas and contributions made through this process would inform final planning decisions at Metro concerning I-710 South Corridor, including an investment plan.

Motion 2022-0355, unfortunately, leaves open the possibility that plans developed outside of the 710 Task Force process will supplant decisions made through the carefully vetted consensus-building process intended to build community trust. The Motion, as currently written, directs staff to apply equal consideration to feedback “from the 710 Task Force and its Working Groups and Community Leadership Committee, the Corridor Cities, and the Gateway Cities Council of Governments and community stakeholders.” This approach ignores the significant distrust generated from experience with Metro prioritizing recommendations from Gateway Cities Council of Governments (COG) over community proposals.

As stated before, the COG has historically not been an adequate venue for engaging with the community. In this latest approach by COG, the Ad Hoc Committee was formed and has run a parallel process for vetting ideas for the I-710 Corridor without community consensus. The Ad Hoc Committee occurs outside the Task Force process and is exclusive to COG members. In the past, Metro and Caltrans’ failure to listen to and incorporate the recommendations from the 710 Project Committee, and the dismantling of the previous community engagement process profoundly damaged what frail community trust existed. Unfortunately, Metro risks eroding that trust again by circumventing the 710 Task Force process.

To maintain that trust, Metro must ensure that the current community engagement process is honored. In addition, Metro should ensure that the Task Force is included in the development and execution of the final list of proposals Metro will consider. We, therefore, suggest that Section “A” of the Motion be revised to direct staff to “Develop and implement a project Investment Plan as advised by the Task Force after reaching consensus with the Community Leadership Committee.” This change would align with the statements made to community participants at the 710 Task Force meetings about the outcome of public participation.

We are also wary of the expedited timeline expected for Metro to deliver three initiatives through this process by September. It took Metro over 20 years to concede that freeway widening was never good—a conclusion that community groups had reached and pressed Metro to adopt for all those years. The most recent CLC meetings reaffirmed the concern of a rushed community engagement process when community leaders were asked to vote on items that were unclear and warranted additional discussion. Metro has the opportunity to show continued growth in understanding and prioritizing community by allowing the time necessary to repair past harm and promote a more equitable future. Developing those solutions will take time and careful consideration and is not something that Metro should rush.

By committing fully to this process, Metro has an opportunity to develop innovative solutions that respond to community needs regarding health, homes, and jobs while building strong community partnerships. For example, rather than imposing an arbitrary timeline, a better approach might be to allow the 710 Task Force to develop a timetable for short-term and long-term goals once Metro staff share upcoming funding-timelines and constraints. This information might help the 710 Task Force members arrive at informed decisions and develop proposals accordingly.

With greater certainty offered by the “No Build” Alternative and more information about funding, we will continue to engage with Metro to pursue community-driven solutions that protect homes and small businesses, protect public health, and bring educational and job opportunities to residents. As we have noted, our communities face a housing crisis of epic proportions with low vacancy rates, rising rents, and limited housing stock. Therefore, although there is consensus that no freeway widening should occur, we ask that Metro go a step further and commit to a policy of requiring “no displacement” of homes and small businesses when approving alternative projects.

Finally, we fully support renaming the task force to reflect Metro’s shift in focus from a freeway-centered project to one that seeks to address broader issues of air quality, mobility, and safety in the corridor. Only tangible results will determine whether this Project’s legacy will perpetuate the harmful freeway-building projects of the past century or build a new equity-centered program to help communities thrive. Still, by allowing Task Force members and the CLC to rename the group, Metro is signaling its shift in focus and openness to consider new strategies for meeting the challenges of this century.

We look forward to working with our fellow Task Force members and the CLC to develop a new name for the Task Force as we continue developing comprehensive equity-centered solutions to the problems generated by the I-710.

NORTH LOS ANGELES COUNTY Transportation Coalition JPA

The Honorable Hilda Solis
Chair, Los Angeles County Metropolitan Transportation Authority

RE: Support Measure M Multi-Year Subregion Program (MSP) Annual Update – North Los Angeles County Subregion. Planning and Programming Board Item 6, May 2022.

Dear Chair Solis:

On behalf of the North Los Angeles County Transportation Coalition JPA (NCTC) member agencies Los Angeles County 5th District, the Cities of Lancaster, Palmdale, and Santa Clarita located in North Los Angeles County, we strongly support the approval of the Measure M Multi-Year Subregion Program (MSP) Annual Update – North Los Angeles County Subregion Planning and Programming Committee Board Agenda Item 6, May 2022.

After public participation with open houses in the Antelope Valley and Santa Clarita Valley, the NCTC adopted the Multi-Year Subregional Program (MSP) Initial 5-year Plan in January 2019. Metro subsequently adopted the NCTC MSP 5-year Plan in February 2019.

On April 18, 2022, the NCTC JPA Board of Directors unanimously approved programming MSP funds for FY 2024/25, for an 8-year MSP total of roughly $62.7 million. The NCTC JPA Member Jurisdictions appreciate the working relationship with Metro to deliver Highway Efficiency Program, Active Transportation Program, and Transit Projects.

To close, NCTC fully supports Measure M Multi-Year Subregion Program Annual Update – North Los Angeles County Subregion Planning and Programming Committee Board Agenda Item 6.

Thank you for your deliberation and leadership on this issue.

Sincerely,

Arthur V. Sohikian
Executive Director

Subject: No more freeway widening - I support items 8 and 9

Dear Metro Planning and Programming Committee,

I strongly support officially canceling the 710 freeway widening project and spending the equivalent $6-8 Billion on projects along the corridor in ways that will help local residents with mobility, air quality, and traffic safety. This corridor is known as the "Diesel Death Zone" and is one of the most polluted areas in LA County. We need to prioritize solutions that improve transit and active transportation access, projects that convert truck trips to rail (including electrifying the Alameda corridor), and improve street safety for people walking or biking. This is a massive opportunity to use local, state, and federal funds to improve quality of life for local residents while transitioning to more sustainable goods movement from the Port of LA.

Air pollution has now been linked to poor obstetrical outcomes including preterm birth, low birth weight, miscarriage, pre-eclampsia, and increased mortality rates with cardiac transplant surgeries. Further, proximity to major roadways has been linked with poor success after bariatric surgery, compared to patients who live further away from traffic-induced air pollution. Enough is enough. We don't need more highways.

Subject: No more freeway widening - I support items 8 and 9

Dear Metro Planning and Programming Committee,

I strongly support officially canceling the 710 freeway widening project and spending the equivalent $6-8 Billion on projects along the corridor in ways that will help local residents with mobility, air quality, and traffic safety. This corridor is known as the "Diesel Death Zone" and is one of the most polluted areas in LA County. We need to prioritize solutions that improve transit and active transportation access, projects that convert truck trips to rail (including electrifying the Alameda corridor), and improve street safety for people walking or biking. Importance: High

Dear Metro Planning and Programming Committee,

Hello, I am writing to express my opposition to further freeway expansion. Expanding the freeway won't solve traffic congestion but only encourage more vehicles. I believe that Metro should reconsider its options and seek an alternative. What we need to do is reduce traffic congestion and reliance on vehicles. The Air Quality is poor, especially in neighborhoods that are low-income and impoverished. I live near a freeway and the air quality is really poor and unhealthy.

I strongly support officially canceling the 710 freeway widening project and spending the equivalent of $6-8 Billion on projects along the corridor in ways that will help local residents with mobility, air quality, and traffic safety. This highway widening is a backwards project. LA needs to progress in line with other cities' non-car initiatives. The more cars we get off the road, the more benefit for everyone-even people who must drive will experience less traffic, pollution and stress. Benefit for all.

Dear Metro Planning and Programming Committee,

My name is Gustavo Hemstreet;

I am a Los Angeles student and taxpayer who is heavily reliant on public transport (esp. trains) to commute into the city for my college classes. I am writing to demand the official cancellation of the 710 freeway widening project, and to provide my unequivocal support towards spending the equivalent $6-8 Billion on projects along the corridor in ways that will help local residents with mobility, air quality, and traffic safety.

For decades, our city has pumped billions of our taxpayer dollars into cars-based infrastructure, at the expense of hard-working people such as myself who are reliant on public transit for mobility.

Given that freeway expansion provides no benefits to taxpayers except wasting our money (as it's been shown to INCREASE our city's notorious traffic because of induced demand), any proposals that increase our urban gridlock are a disgrace to those of us who would be far better served by an increase in other available transit options: For instance, additional light rail, or protected busways.

This is to say nothing of the other proven downsides of freeway expansion- Namely, an increase to air pollution (which is already notorious around the 710 corridor), and the inevitable displacement of working class families (predominantly Black and Latino).

Instead, we should reallocate the freeway funds towards better people-oriented solutions for our city- For example, electrifying the Alameda corridor, or investing in more light rail/subways.

We've wasted enough cash on freeways- No more!

Thank you,

Subject: No more freeway widening - I support items 8 and 9

Dear Metro Planning and Programming Committee,

I strongly support officially canceling the 710 freeway widening project and spending the equivalent $6-8 Billion on projects along the corridor in ways that will help local residents with mobility, air quality, and traffic safety. This corridor is known as the "Diesel Death Zone" and is one of the most polluted areas in LA County. We need to prioritize solutions that improve transit and active transportation access, projects that convert truck trips to rail (including electrifying the Alameda corridor), and improve street safety for people walking or biking. This is a massive opportunity to use local, state, and federal funds to improve quality of life for local residents while transitioning to more sustainable goods movement from the Port of LA.

Previous projects to widen freeways end up being useless. They don't improve traffic and are usually outdated by the time they are finished. Use the money to do some real good.

To: Metro Planning and Programming Committee,

Please support canceling the 710 freeway widening project and redirecting the project budget to more sustainable solutions like public transit, freight rail electrification and safe active transportation networks for biking and walking.

Freeway widening has proven to be a failed strategy for solving our transportation-related problems, each widening essentially digging us in deeper to the wasteful paradigm of single-occupant vehicles and single-container freight transport by trucks. The climate crisis and the unacceptable impacts that freeways have on vulnerable communities demands that we reverse course and direct our planning and resources in a more sustainable and safer direction.

We only have to look at examples in numerous European and Asian countries to see proven models for how to move people and goods more efficiently and sustainably. Please don't let this opportunity slip away.

Subject: No more freeway widening - I support items 8 and 9

Dear Metro Planning and Programming Committee,

I strongly support officially canceling the 710 freeway widening project and spending the equivalent $6-8 Billion on projects along the corridor in ways that will help local residents with mobility, air quality, and traffic safety. This corridor is known as the "Diesel Death Zone" and is one of the most polluted areas in LA County. We need to prioritize solutions that improve transit and active transportation access, projects that convert truck trips to rail (including electrifying the Alameda corridor), and improve street safety for people walking or biking. This is a massive opportunity to use local, state, and federal funds to improve quality of life for local residents while transitioning to more sustainable goods movement from the Port of LA.

Subject: pause all freeway widening

Dear Metro Planning and Programming Committee,

I strongly support officially canceling the 710 freeway widening project and spending the equivalent $6-8 Billion on projects along the corridor in ways that will help local residents with mobility, air quality, and traffic safety.

Furthermore, I really question how a city and metro area that claims to want to do its part the help prevent further climate change is prioritizing any freeway or street widening projects at all.

Why not put a pause on all freeway/street projects that cannot directly improve public transit, convert truck trips to rail (including electrifying the Alameda corridor), and improve street safety for people walking or biking.

Once we've fully done those things across the LA metro area, we can see if it still makes sense to contribute dollars and time to projects for private vehicles.

Dear Metro Board of Directors,

As the State Senator representing California's 33rd District, I write to express my support and urge the Metro Board of Directors to adopt Alternative 1, the "No Build" alternative, as the new Locally Preferred Alternative for the I-710 South Corridor.

Alternative 1, the "No Build" alternative, will end a decades-long effort to widen the 710 freeway. The planned widening would have destroyed homes and neighborhoods in Southeast Los Angeles, resulting in the displacement of families who live along the freeway. In addition, communities along the I-710 South Corridor have amongst the worst air quality in the nation, which has led to various health problems such as decreased lung function, high rates of asthma, and increased instances of lung and heart disease. The cities I represent along the 710 freeway have carried the disproportionate burden of environmental injustices and displacement for far too long. Metro must continue to work to repair past harms and promote a more equitable future for our communities along the I-710 South Corridor.

I appreciate Metro's efforts to create the 710 Task Force that has brought together the impacted community, and public and private stakeholders to voice their concerns and provide feedback on the local and regional needs for improvement on and around the 710 freeway. As Metro begins to develop an investment plan for the I-710 South Corridor—community input must be at the forefront of these critical decisions. A community lead process will allow Metro to develop innovative solutions that respond to community needs regarding health, homes, and jobs while fostering strong community partnerships.

I am committed to continue working with Metro and our community partners to ensure that we develop an equity-centered I-710 South Corridor for all of our communities to thrive. Please do not hesitate to contact my office at (562) 256-7921 with any questions regarding my support.

Sincerely,

Greetings Board Members,

My name is Carrie Madden, and I am a disability and aging advocate at CALIF which is an Independent Living Center in Downtown Los Angeles. CALIF also hosts an Aging and Disability Resource Connection which covers Central South Los Angeles. Both CALIF-ILC and our ADRC employs advocates that work on transportation. We work with Metro on many committees to help create a transportation network that is fully accessible to all riders.

Since the onset of COVID, many members in our community have had the ability for the first time to attend Metro meetings via Zoom. For our community, traveling to and from Metro meetings has always been a barrier to full participation. Our voices get shut out of the conversation because we cannot be there in person. It is one thing to submit written comments hoping that someone might read it. It is another experience altogether standing in front of the committee and seeing true reactions to what we are saying. Zoom finally gave us the vehicle to true participation.

Now that the state of emergency is winding down, many in our community are fearful that our voice will be cut off again. We are thankful that the Board is continuing to keep these meetings going on Zoom. It is, however, our hope that Zoom access remains a continuing avenue for public comments which would make Metro a truly accessible organization.

Thank you,
Carrie Madden

Re: 710 South Corridor Project - Support Agenda Item 8 (File # 2022-0100); Support Agenda Item 9 WITH REVISION (File # 2022-0355)

Dear Chair Solis and Members of the Metro Board of Directors:

Long Beach Forward stands in solidarity with the Coalition for Environmental Health & Justice (CEHAJ), and as such, we support Metro officially rejecting freeway widening as a project considered for the I-710 South Corridor. However, we remain wary of any effort to rush through approval of a punch list of projects derivative of the profoundly flawed Alternative 5C without allowing the 710 Task Force time to fully consider alternatives.

We support Agenda Item 8, File # 2022-0100, Approving the “No Build” Alternative as the new Locally Preferred Alternative for the I-710 South Corridor Project Final Environmental Document. We support Agenda Item 9, File # 2022-0355, WITH REVISION: Motion by Directors Hahn, Solis, Mitchell, and Dutra.

A “No Build” alternative would essentially end the I-710 South Corridor Project as previously conceived. Yet, merely declaring an official end to the old freeway widening plan without further action will not address the ongoing impacts of health-harming air pollution, greenhouse gas emissions, or traffic and safety issues. Therefore, we agree that Metro, State, and Federal agencies should do more to invest the resources necessary to correct these harms.

However, to be effective, any investment strategy must have impacted residents at the decision-making table. Unfortunately, communities along the I-710 Corridor have long been excluded from decision-making

OUR VISION

Race and income do not determine one's future in Long Beach—it's a community where everyone is safe, connected, and healthy.

   @move1bforward

(562) 436-4800 hello@lbforward.org 425 Atlantic Ave., Long Beach, CA 90802

on transportation projects that immediately affect them. CEHAJ has spent the last eight months with Metro staff participating in monthly 710 Task Force meetings and numerous working group meetings to correct this inequity. This process has included the investment of time and energy from hundreds of impacted residents, community leaders, and community-based organizations that have diligently participated in discussions. Metro told participants that the ideas and contributions made through this process would inform final planning decisions at Metro concerning I-710 South Corridor, including an investment plan.

Agenda Item 9, unfortunately, leaves open the possibility that plans developed outside of the 710 Task Force process will supplant decisions made through the carefully vetted consensus-building process intended to build community trust. The Motion, as currently written, directs staff to apply equal consideration to feedback “from the 710 Task Force and its Working Groups and Community Leadership Committee, the Corridor Cities, and the Gateway Cities Council of Governments and community stakeholders.” This approach ignores the significant distrust generated from experience with Metro prioritizing recommendations from Gateway Cities Council of Governments (COG) over community proposals.

As stated before, the COG has historically not been an adequate venue for engaging with the community. In this latest approach by COG, the Ad Hoc Committee was formed and has run a parallel process for vetting ideas for the I-710 Corridor without community consensus. The Ad Hoc Committee occurs outside the Task Force process and is exclusive to COG members. In the past, Metro and Caltrans’ failure to listen to and incorporate the recommendations from the 710 Project Committee and the dismantling of the previous community engagement process profoundly damaged what frail community trust existed. Unfortunately, Metro risks eroding that trust again by circumventing the 710 Task Force process.

To maintain that trust, Metro must ensure that the current community engagement process is honored. In addition, Metro should ensure that the Task Force is included in the development and execution of the final list of proposals Metro will consider. We, therefore, suggest that Section “A” of the Motion be revised to direct staff to “Develop and implement a project Investment Plan as advised by the Task Force after reaching consensus with the Community Leadership Committee.” This change would align with the statements made to community participants at the 710 Task Force meetings about the outcome of public participation.

We are also wary of the expedited timeline expected for Metro to deliver three initiatives through this process by September. It took Metro over 20 years to concede that freeway widening was never good—a conclusion that community groups had reached and pressed Metro to adopt for all those years. The most recent CLC meetings reaffirmed the concern of a rushed community engagement process when community leaders were asked to vote on items that were unclear and warranted additional discussion. Metro has the opportunity to show continued growth in understanding and prioritizing community by allowing the time necessary to repair past harm and promote a more equitable future. Developing those solutions will take time and careful consideration and is not something that Metro should rush.

By committing fully to this process, Metro has an opportunity to develop innovative solutions that respond to community needs regarding health, homes, and jobs while building strong community partnerships. For example, rather than imposing an arbitrary timeline, a better approach might be to allow the 710 Task Force to develop a timetable for short-term and long-term goals once Metro staff share upcoming funding-timelines and constraints. This information might help the 710 Task Force members arrive at informed decisions and develop proposals accordingly.

With greater certainty offered by the “No Build” Alternative and more information about funding, we will continue to engage with Metro to pursue community-driven solutions that protect homes and small businesses, protect public health, and bring educational and job opportunities to residents. As we have noted, our communities face a housing crisis of epic proportions with low vacancy rates, rising rents, and limited housing stock. Therefore, although there is consensus that no freeway widening should occur, we ask that Metro go a step further and commit to a policy of requiring “no displacement” of homes and small businesses when approving alternative projects.

Finally, we fully support renaming the task force to reflect Metro’s shift in focus from a freeway-centered project to one that seeks to address broader issues of air quality, mobility, and safety in the corridor. Only tangible results will determine whether this Project’s legacy will perpetuate the harmful freeway-building projects of the past century or build a new equity-centered program to help communities thrive. Still, by allowing Task Force members and the CLC to rename the group, Metro is signaling its shift in focus and openness to consider new strategies for meeting the challenges of this century.

In solidarity,

James Suazo

Re: File# 2022-0243: Fiscal Year 2023 Budget

Dear Metro Board Members,

Every year, Move LA reviews and submits comments on the Metro budget. We appreciate the engagement by Metro staff and their openness to meeting, sharing data, and discussing ideas.

First, we want to applaud some of the bright spots in the budget and we look forward to working with the Board and staff to implement them throughout this coming year. This includes:

1. Use of an Equitable Zero-Based Budget process to identify opportunities to invest in Equity Focused Communities in Los Angeles County;
2. Doubling of transit ambassadors to create a welcome and safe experience for all transit riders, especially for women, families, seniors, and persons with disabilities;
3. Investment in customer experience to bring back and keep ridership, including fare capping;
4. Continued commitment to Fareless System Initiative (FSI) for students and the LIFE Program;
5. Commitment to restoring bus service to 7.1 Million Revenue Service Hours;
6. Enumeration of the NextGen Bus investments and expected improvements;
7. Equitable analytics-led approach to enhancing public safety; and
8. Expansion of rail service with the opening of the Regional Connector and Crenshaw Lines while maintaining faster headways and more stations.

We hope to engage with the Metro staff and Board this year on the implementation of the budget and ask that you consider three things:

1. Operators and Ambassadors are on the Frontlines of Good Customer Experience

Several times, the budget indicates it puts a “clear focus on improving the customer experience.” This is the largest budget ever consider by the Metro Board with a goal of restoring service to pre-pandemic level,s and projections for a return to bus ridership of nearly 100% by the end of FY23. And yet, there does not seem to be a real emphasis on the most important component to achieving those goals—the transit operators. Operators are on the frontline of every customer experience at Metro and Metro survey of operators was clear on one thing—operators are not happy. Metro needs to restructure the position of operator if it is to truly achieve its NextGen Bus Plan goals of ensuring 80% of current riders having 10 minutes headways and 99% of riders have a ¼-mile walk to a bus stop. With sales tax revenue estimates increasing by 19.3% and STA revenues increasing 76%, why is Metro not using this increased funding to address the needs of the very people who engage with riders every day? A major investment in their well-being—as well as their wages—will result in better service, less no-shows, and less people leaving the service. Metro Micro has provided a model for this during the pandemic—recruiting 130 new operators, providing flexible schedules and a safe work environment, and intense training on how women travel, better customer service, addressing accessibility issues, and more. This also means investing heavily in Metro's transit ambassador program to ensure safety for both operators and riders without over-policing our transit system. By making the investment in this year, Metro will see results in future years with a workforce that is in tune with riders and engaged in Metro's important mission.

2. An Equitable Action Plan on Transportation Infrastructure is needed

The budget narrative describes an "affordability gap" in the near-term financial outlook created by rising costs coupled with stagnating resources. However, while cost inflation is pegged at 3.3% for FY23, sales tax revenue is increasing at a significantly higher rate, vastly more State and Federal funds from the largest surplus in State budget history are expected, and the appropriation and distribution of billions for the Bipartisan Infrastructure Law will occur over the next 5 years. The budget narrative asks, "What is the action plan to secure additional funding and/or control costs?"; with Metro staff working to go after every resource available, the question is, what efforts to control costs are being undertaken?

A major challenge for Metro is cost overruns for large projects. The impact of such cost overruns is that transit riders are short-changed, and it erodes Metro's credibility with voters who may not support future funding measures. In the past, budget shortfalls have also resulted in service cuts that fall disproportionately on low-income riders and parts of the region populated by people of color. It could also mean that many smaller projects get "crowded out" because even a small increase in cost for these mega-projects means that an active transit or bus rapid transit line may never be funded. We cannot allow this to happen in Los Angeles and so it is more important than ever that we use infrastructure funding effectively through aggressive cost control measures.

First, Metro can save operating, legal, and capital dollars in the mid- to long-term by installing high impact and low-cost infrastructure in the next two years. This includes: 1) bus-only lanes, 2) bus shelters at every bus stop feasible, 3) shade trees for bus shelters, 4) public bathrooms that are staffed at rail transit stations, 5) all-door boarding, 6) level boarding where possible, 7) access ramps, 8) barrier protected bike lane network, and 9) queue jumpers for buses. These investments can ensure that everyone on buses can move reliably to their destination, do not face extreme heat waiting for their bus, and have accessible, seamless, climate-resilient and safe access to public and active transit. Some infrastructure must be paid for and built by local cities and the county, but Metro should play an important role in planning and implementing these as well.

Second, Metro must re-engage to advance the Countywide Bus Rapid Transit Plan. Aside from $17 Million budgeted for transit planning (page 78), there is no mention of this critical project. Why are NextGen Bus Plan investments now only $350 Million when the NextGen Speed and Reliability program recommended $1 Billion in investments? Can the Board propose a Life-of-Project Budget for the NexGen Speed and Reliability and the Countywide Bus Rapid Transit Plan so that these high impact, low cost infrastructure projects can be funded over multiple budget cycles?

Finally, Metro must immediately begin implementing recommendations made by the Eno Center on project delivery to keep costs contained in the mid- to long-term. This could include:

- Creating temporary, independent special purpose delivery vehicles (SPDVs) with strong Project Labor Agreements and Local Hire requirements with the necessary authority for Metro's four "pillar projects" commencing as soon as possible.
- Seeking authorization through state legislation or agreement with municipalities to be self-permitting. For example, if a street needs to be closed for construction activities for a transit project, a project-specific permit allows work to begin without the need to request another permit from a locality to proceed. This requires localities ceding some control but will facilitate speedier projects and help the project sponsor manage betterment requests.
- Pushing for greater short-term disruption to advance construction faster. The acceleration of the construction of the Purple Line stations on Wilshire Boulevard in Beverly Hills being completed seven months early is a good example.
- Enacting a policy that clearly outlines when and how stakeholders and municipalities can request betterments.
- Working with CalSTA, Caltrans, and other agencies to contain costs, reduce bureaucratic burdens, enable bulk purchasing, and more.

3. Investing at least 40% in Equity-Focused Communities (Justice40)

We are optimistic about the Equitable Zero-Based Budget process and grateful to see the funds accounted from an equity lens. However, all the funds outlined in the EZBB analysis together account for 1/8 of the total budget. Move LA supports the Federal Justice40 Initiative and Assembly Bill 2419, the California Justice40 Act, which aims to invest at least 40 percent of federal climate and infrastructure funding to communities that have been historically neglected by discriminatory and racist policies. This also includes workforce development programs that recruit and hire individuals from these communities, those who are formerly incarcerated, or those who have not completed their high-school or college course of studies, and work with local labor unions to train them for highly skilled positions. Metro has been an innovator in these local hire efforts, in partnership with local unions, and the Metro SEED School also serves as a shining example. Move LA calls on Metro to account for its work and hold itself accountable to the Justice40 standard in future budgets.

One outcome of implementing this goal would be a wholesale rethinking of the Highway Infrastructure budget. This budget category needs to be renamed, first of all, and then needs to re-think its investments completely to ensure it addresses climate change and VMT reduction by increasing multi-modality on our streets including grade separations for rail travel, bus lanes, bulb-outs, level boarding, queue jumpers, and active transportation. While voters supported freeway modernization and improvements in Measure R and M, they also voted for traffic reduction and the evidence is clear that freeway widening does not reduce traffic. Metro can do better to continue to fund projects that prioritize multi-modality.

Thanks for considering these ideas and we look forward to engaging.

Yours in transit,

Eli Lipmen

To the Metro board:

I am for Item #9, and am glad you are considering ending Metro's attempt to make traffic and climate change worse along the 710 corridor by widening it. You should instead invest in improving public transit and active transportation along the corridor, and consider electrifying the Alameda Corridor.

Regarding Item #15, I am completely against this budget. How do you get away with increasing your Highway Program budget from $264M in FY21 to $634M in FY23 in the middle of a climate crisis? Increasing spending on highways - much of it widening them, despite the lies that your staff tells you - goes against your own climate goals. You'll make traffic worse and induce more people to drive, all while wasting taxpayer money on non-solutions.

I ask that you reject this misguided budget and instead reduce the highway program's budget, using the extra funds to invest in improving transit infrastructure and frequency, and active transportation. I encourage you to watch the induced demand video on Destruction for Nada.

We are in a climate crisis. It's time that Metro and its board act like it.

I ask that you approve Item #9, formally ending Metro's attempt to make traffic and climate change worse along the 710 corridor by widening it. I ask that Metro instead invest in improving public transit service and infrastructure along the corridor, as well as active transportation infrastructure. I also think that electrifying the Alameda Corridor would be a good idea.

Regarding Item #15, I am appalled that in the middle of a climate crisis, Metro has increased its Highway Program budget from $264M in FY21 to $634M in FY23. Increasing spending on highways - much of it widening them, despite the lies that your staff tells you - goes against Metro's own stated climate goals. It will make traffic worse as it will induce more people to drive. Additionally, it will make climate change worse, all while wasting taxpayer money on non-solutions.

I ask that you reject this misguided budget and instead reduce the highway program's budget, using the extra funds to invest in improving transit infrastructure and frequency, and active transportation.

We are in a climate crisis. It's time to act like it.

Dear Metro Board -

Hello, my name is Lionel. I am writing to make a public comment on this important issue. I am concerned about the widening of the 710 freeway and the impact on the community. Climate Change is for real and we are now facing a severe water drought (water crisis). Widening the freeway will not help solve the climate crisis emergency. It will only exaggerate climate change and have a negative impact on underprivileged neighborhoods.

Here's why:

I ask that you approve Item #9, formally ending Metro's attempt to make traffic and climate change worse along the 710 corridor by widening it. I ask that Metro instead invest in improving public transit service and infrastructure along the corridor, as well as active transportation infrastructure. I also think that electrifying the Alameda Corridor would be a good idea.

Regarding Item #15, I am appalled that in the middle of a climate crisis, Metro has increased its Highway Program budget from $264M in FY21 to $634M in FY23. Dear Board Members, Highways are a 1950s solution and are NOT FIT FOR PURPOSE for an organization whose own Vision 2028 calls for "transforming mobility in LA County" and "a more sustainable future." Stop wasting tax dollars on highways, for God's sake!

Please support agenda item #9, officially ending Metro's 710 widening boondoggle. Evidence proves that widening highways induces traffic and increases climate-changing carbon emissions. Instead, you should invest in public transit options and active transportation options along the corridor. Electrifying the Alameda Corridor freight line would also reduce ground-level air pollution.

Based on my comments above, I also oppose agenda item #15. Let me repeat: evidence proves that widening highways induces traffic and increases climate-changing carbon emissions, all while wasting taxpayer money and displacing residents. Stop the craziness!

Reject this budget and instead reduce the highway program's budget. Use the extra funds to invest in improving transit infrastructure and frequency, and active transportation.

We are in a climate crisis. Stop spending like it's 1972 and start spending like it's 2022.

I also think that electrifying the Alameda Corridor would be a good idea.

Regarding Item #15, I am appalled that in the middle of a climate crisis, Metro has increased its Highway Program budget from $264M in FY21 to $634M in FY23. Increasing spending on highways - much of it widening them, despite the lies that your staff tells you - goes against Metro's own stated climate goals. It will make traffic worse as it will induce more people to drive. Additionally, it will make climate change worse, all while wasting taxpayer money on non-solutions.

I ask that you reject this misguided budget and instead reduce the highway program's budget, using the extra funds to invest in improving transit infrastructure and frequency, and active transportation.

We are in a climate crisis. It's time to act like it. Instead of spending even more money subsidizing gas-burning car use, spend money on reducing the need for cars by making public transit free and more convenient, e.g. via more dedicated bus lanes and improved rail service. It's counterproductive to reduce subway frequency from 12 to 15 min when people should be encouraged to take public transit, not discouraged from it. Whenever I see tourists on our buses and trains, I'm ashamed of how inconvenient and inefficient our public transit is compared to other countries' cities.

I ask that you approve Item #9, formally ending Metro's attempt to make traffic and climate change worse along the 710 corridor by widening it. We need separated protected bike lanes, bus only lanes and sidewalk improvements, not wider freeways!

Studies repeatedly show, widening freeways leads to induced demand which leads to MORE traffic, not less!

Induce demand for bicycling and public transportation by spending money there to build quality connected fast infrastructure.

I ask that Metro instead invest in improving public transit service and infrastructure along the corridor, as well as active transportation infrastructure. Regarding Item #15, I am appalled that in the middle of a climate crisis, Metro proposes to increase its Highway Program budget from $264M in FY21 to $634M in FY23. Increasing spending on highways - much of it widening them, despite the lies that your staff tells you - goes against Metro's own stated climate goals. It will induce more vehicle trips, resulting in more air pollution in one of the most polluted regions in the United States. Adding more lanes will also make climate change worse, all while wasting taxpayer money on non-solutions. I ask that you reduce the highway program's budget and invest in improving transit infrastructure and frequency, and active transportation.

Subject: No more freeway widening - I support items 8 and 9

Dear Metro Planning and Programming Committee,

I strongly support officially canceling the 710 freeway widening project and spending the equivalent $6-8 Billion on projects along the corridor in ways that will help local residents with mobility, air quality, and traffic safety. This corridor is known as the "Diesel Death Zone" and is one of the most polluted areas in LA County. We need to prioritize solutions that improve transit and active transportation access, projects that convert truck trips to rail (including electrifying the Alameda corridor), and improve street safety for people walking or biking. This is a massive opportunity to use local, state, and federal funds to improve quality of life for local residents while transitioning to more sustainable goods movement from the Port of LA.

Dear Metro Board,

I ask that you approve Item #9, formally ending Metro's attempt to make traffic and climate change worse along the 710 corridor by widening it. I ask that Metro instead invest in improving public transit service and infrastructure along the corridor, as well as active transportation infrastructure. I also think that electrifying the Alameda Corridor would be a good idea.

Regarding Item #15, I am appalled that in the middle of a climate crisis, Metro has increased its Highway Program budget from $264M in FY21 to $634M in FY23. Increasing spending on highways - much of it widening them, despite the lies that your staff tells you - goes against Metro's own stated climate goals. It will make traffic worse as it will induce more people to drive. Additionally, it will make climate change worse, all while wasting taxpayer money on non-solutions.

I ask that you reject this misguided budget and instead reduce the highway program's budget, using the extra funds to invest in improving transit infrastructure and frequency, and active transportation.

PS: Please use the knowledge that has been built over decades of traffic congestion solutions. We are so fortunate to have good weather here so we can actually bike, bus, train, and taxi around. Your billions will be greatly spent on protecting two-wheelers and two-leggers.

Thanks for the Metro Micro. I am loving it.

Metro Board of Directors

Metro Board Chair Hilda Solis,

I write to offer my support for Item 9 on the May 26, 2022 Board of Directors agenda, "710 South Corridor Motion," authored by Supervisor Janice Hahn. The health of the disability community along with seniors, that I represent has been severely impacted for decades by poor air quality, traffic congestion, and unsafe streets. Supervisor Hahn's motion - co-authored by you, Supervisor Mitchell and Director Dutra - is an important next step for the 710 South corridor and the communities along it.

I want to express my sincere gratitude to Supervisor Hahn for having the vision and forethought to bring forward an action that reimagines what it means to address some of our region's biggest challenges. And thank you to Metro for creating a community-driven process that will now provide the input and guidance that we should have had on this project all along.

I strongly urge your support for Item 9 and thank you for your consideration.

Sincerely,

Subject: OPPOSE unless amended - Item 15 - Proposed FY23 Budget

Dear Metro Directors:

I am writing to you as a Metro transit rider and Angeleno who wants to see my investments in Metro be used to make Metro a public-serving agency that provides world-class service to all.

This commitment to world-class service is not evident through the proposed fiscal year 2023 budget and I oppose the budget unless it is amended as follows:

Metro's budget must commit to investing more than 10% of its "bus service budget" on increased bus lanes and infrastructure to keep its promises for frequent and reliable bus service. Metro must also commit near-term funding to both launch the Phase 2 fareless transit pilot for low income riders and develop a plan for universal fareless transit. Metro must invest properly in previously board-supported projects such as NextGen (Metro has failed to provide the service to the promised levels) and a Phase 2 fareless transit pilot for working class riders.

Meanwhile, Metro is continuing to pour money into failed strategies such as an additional $170 million for law enforcement contracts, despite the fact that law enforcement on Metro has failed to keep its riders safe. Metro's budget should adhere to their Public Safety Advisory Committee's recommendations to wind down Metro's law enforcement contracts and instead invest in community-focused safety strategies.

Metro must substantially invest in the programs at Metro that provide service to its ridership - the transit ambassador program, NextGen, and fareless transit - and this commitment must be reflected in the 2023 budget.

Thank you.

Item #15
Strongly oppose highway/freeway expansion.

Instead, build towards a better, livable, sustainable future for our Los Angeles!
Invest in "Complete Communities" where people can conduct their daily lives without needing to commute.

For those that need to commute, a clean, safe, convenient and affordable multimodal public transit system is essential.

TURN AWAY from certain disaster and the collapse of modern society: pollution, traffic congestion, stress, isolation, vehicular violence, resource depletion, climate devastation!

Hammers can't fix broken windows, highway expansion can't fix already failed planning & policies.

Develop new tools. It's long overdue for Metro, and our other agencies to break out of their siloed existence, our hopes for a better future depend on it.

Metro must also commit near-term funding to both launch the Phase 2 fareless transit pilot for low income riders and develop a plan for universal fareless transit. Metro must invest properly in previously board-supported projects such as NextGen (Metro has failed to provide the service to the promised levels) and a Phase 2 fareless transit pilot for working class riders.

Meanwhile, Metro is continuing to pour money into failed strategies such as an additional $170 million for law enforcement contracts, despite the fact that law enforcement on Metro has failed to keep its riders safe. Metro's budget should adhere to their Public Safety Advisory Committee's recommendations to wind down Metro's law enforcement contracts and instead invest in community-focused safety strategies.

Metro must substantially invest in the programs at Metro that provide service to its ridership - the transit ambassador program, NextGen, and fareless transit - and this commitment must be reflected in the 2023 budget.

Thank you.

This commitment to world-class service is not evident through the proposed fiscal year 2023 budget and I oppose the budget unless it is amended as follows: Metro's budget must commit to investing more than 10% of its "bus service budget" on increased bus lanes and infrastructure to keep its promises for frequent and reliable bus service. Dear Metro Directors:

Our climate is in crisis, bus riders emit just 1/6 of the carbon of car drivers, yet they are deprioritized. This systemic transportation racism is short-sighted and makes Los Angeles far less than the world-class city it could be.

Subject: OPPOSE unless amended - Item 15 - Proposed FY23 Budget

Dear Metro Directors:

I am writing to you as a Metro transit rider and Angeleno who wants to see my investments in Metro be used to make Metro a public-serving agency that provides world-class service to all.

This commitment to world-class service is not evident through the proposed fiscal year 2023 budget and I oppose the budget unless it is amended as follows:

Metro's budget must commit to investing more than 10% of its "bus service budget" on increased bus lanes and infrastructure to keep its promises for frequent and reliable bus service. Metro must also commit near-term funding to both launch the Phase 2 fareless transit pilot for low income riders and develop a plan for universal fareless transit. Metro must invest properly in previously board-supported projects such as NextGen (Metro has failed to provide the service to the promised levels) and a Phase 2 fareless transit pilot for working class riders.

Meanwhile, Metro is continuing to pour money into failed strategies such as an additional $170 million for law enforcement contracts, despite the fact that law enforcement on Metro has failed to keep its riders safe. Metro's budget should adhere to their Public Safety Advisory Committee's recommendations to wind down Metro's law enforcement contracts and instead invest in community-focused safety strategies.

Metro must substantially invest in the programs at Metro that provide service to its ridership - the transit ambassador program, NextGen, and fareless transit - and this commitment must be reflected in the 2023 budget.

Thank you.

Subject: OPPOSE unless amended - Item 15 - Proposed FY23 Budget

Dear Metro Directors:

I live in East Hollywood and depend heavily on the bus and subway - specifically the 4 and Metro B line - to get around. I have already felt the impact of reduced service and would hate to experience additional cuts.

I want to see my investments in Metro be used to make Metro a public-serving agency that provides world-class service to all.

Subject: FOR Item 9, AGAINST Item 15

Dear Metro Board -

I ask that you approve Item #9, formally ending Metro's attempt to make traffic and climate change worse along the 710 corridor by widening it. I ask that Metro instead invest in improving public transit service and infrastructure along the corridor, as well as active transportation infrastructure. I also think that electrifying the Alameda Corridor would be a good idea.

Regarding Item #15, I am appalled that in the middle of a climate crisis, Metro has increased its Highway Program budget from $264M in FY21 to $634M in FY23. Increasing spending on highways - much of it widening them, despite the lies that your staff tells you - goes against Metro's own stated climate goals. It will make traffic worse as it will induce more people to drive. Additionally, it will make climate change worse, all while wasting taxpayer money on non-solutions.

I ask that you reject this misguided budget and instead reduce the highway program's budget, using the extra funds to invest in improving transit infrastructure and frequency, and active transportation.

We are in a climate crisis. It's time to act like it.

Meanwhile, Metro is continuing to pour money into failed strategies such as an additional $170 million for law enforcement contracts, despite the fact that law enforcement on Metro has failed to keep its riders safe. Metro's budget should adhere to their Public Safety Advisory Committee's recommendations to wind down Metro's law enforcement contracts and instead invest in community-focused safety strategies. Subject: OPPOSE to proposed FY23 Budget unless amended

Dear Metro Directors:

I am writing to you as a Metro transit rider and Angeleno who wants to see my investments in Metro be used to make Metro a public-serving agency that provides world-class service to all.

This commitment to world-class service is not evident through the proposed fiscal year 2023 budget and I oppose the budget unless it is amended as follows:

Metro's budget must commit to investing more than 10% of its "bus service budget" on increased bus lanes and infrastructure to keep its promises for frequent and reliable bus service. Metro must also commit near-term funding to both launch the Phase 2 fareless transit pilot for low income riders and develop a plan for universal fareless transit. Metro must invest properly in previously board-supported projects such as NextGen (Metro has failed to provide the service to the promised levels) and a Phase 2 fareless transit pilot for working class riders.

Meanwhile, Metro is continuing to pour money into failed strategies such as an additional $170 million for law enforcement contracts, despite the fact that law enforcement on Metro has failed to keep its riders safe. Metro's budget should adhere to their Public Safety Advisory Committee's recommendations to wind down Metro's law enforcement contracts and instead invest in community-focused safety strategies.

Metro must substantially invest in the programs at Metro that provide service to its ridership - the transit ambassador program, NextGen, and fareless transit - and this commitment must be reflected in the 2023 budget.

Dear Metro Board -

I ask that you approve Item #9, formally ending Metro's attempt to make traffic and climate change worse along the 710 corridor by widening it. I ask that Metro instead invest in improving public transit service and infrastructure along the corridor, as well as active transportation infrastructure. I also think that electrifying the Alameda Corridor would be a good idea.

Regarding Item #15, I am appalled that in the middle of a climate crisis, Metro has increased its Highway Program budget from $264M in FY21 to $634M in FY23. Increasing spending on highways - much of it widening them, despite the lies that your staff tells you - goes against Metro's own stated climate goals. It will make traffic worse as it will induce more people to drive. Additionally, it will make climate change worse, all while wasting taxpayer money on non-solutions.

I ask that you reject this misguided budget and instead reduce the highway program's budget, using the extra funds to invest in improving transit infrastructure and frequency, and active transportation.

We are in a climate crisis. It's time to act like it.

I also think that electrifying the Alameda Corridor would be a good idea.

Regarding Item #15, I am appalled that in the middle of a climate crisis, Metro has increased its Highway Program budget from $264M in FY21 to $634M in FY23. Increasing spending on highways - much of it widening them, despite the lies that your staff tells you - goes against Metro's own stated climate goals. It will make traffic worse as it will induce more people to drive. Additionally, it will make climate change worse, all while wasting taxpayer money on non-solutions.

I ask that you reject this misguided budget and instead reduce the highway program's budget, using the extra funds to invest in improving transit infrastructure and frequency, and active transportation.

We are in a climate crisis. It's time to act like it.

Subject: OPPOSE unless amended - Item 15 - Proposed FY23 Budget

Dear Metro Directors:

I am writing to you as a Metro transit rider and Angeleno who wants to see my investments in Metro be used to make Metro a public-serving agency that provides world-class service to all.

This commitment to world-class service is not evident through the proposed fiscal year 2023 budget and I oppose the budget unless it is amended as follows:

Metro's budget must commit to investing more than 10% of its "bus service budget" on increased bus lanes and infrastructure to keep its promises for frequent and reliable bus service. Metro must also commit near-term funding to both launch the Phase 2 fareless transit pilot for low income riders and develop a plan for universal fareless transit. Metro must invest properly in previously board-supported projects such as NextGen (Metro has failed to provide the service to the promised levels) and a Phase 2 fareless transit pilot for working class riders.

Meanwhile, Metro is continuing to pour money into failed strategies such as an additional $170 million for law enforcement contracts, despite the fact that law enforcement on Metro has failed to keep its riders safe. Metro's budget should adhere to their Public Safety Advisory Committee's recommendations to wind down Metro's law enforcement contracts and instead invest in community-focused safety strategies.

Metro must substantially invest in the programs at Metro that provide service to its ridership - the transit ambassador program, NextGen, and fareless transit - and this commitment must be reflected in the 2023 budget.

Thank you.
