Strategy for External Marketing Campaigns

- External campaigns are developed based on agency's goals
- The Marketing & Design Department has established teams that also include representatives from Community Relations, Public Relations and Government Relations that partner with each Metro department to develop cohesive communication plans to inform and engage current and potential customers
- Teams are organized to serve three main marketing goals:
 - ➤ Increase revenue through ridership, advertising and promotions
 - Improve the customer experience
 - Build support for Metro's agenda

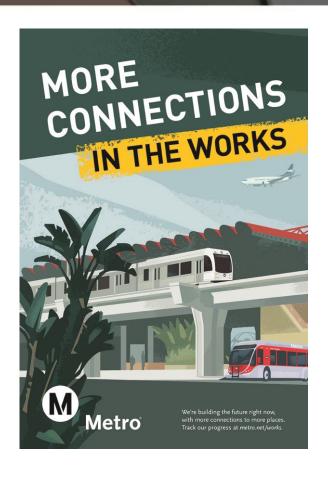

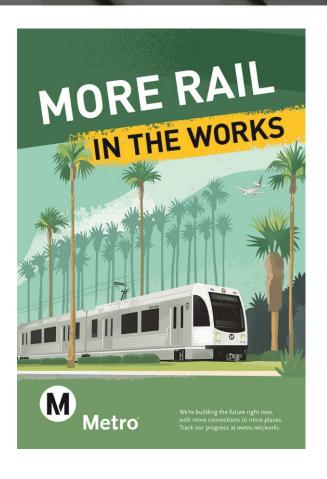

External Campaign Strategy

- Teams are objective-based rather than department-based
- Teams are responsible for outlining goals, developing strategic and tactical plans, budgets, benchmarks, KPIs, content calendar, creative executions
- Workflow removes silos and confusion of roles through crossplanning and partner inclusion
- Structure ensures consistency in agency messaging
- Collaboration streamlines project management, creative design process, web and social media strategy, media planning and buying, research and production
- Success measured by ability to deliver on goals
